139 DMS Graduates To Get Commissions

Of the 139 distinguished military graduates of colleges throughout the nation to receive Regular Army second lieutenant commissions Feb. 1, 1952, 38 are in the Fourth Army area according to information received this week by Col. C. M. Culp, Chief of the Texas Military District.

Oklahoma A&M leads with 13, Louisiana State University is second with 8, and Texas A&M is third with 5. Others follow: University of Oklahoma, 4; Texas University, 3; University of Arkansas, 2; and one each at New Mexico A&M, University of Houston and Texas Tech.

Graduated At Mid-Term

The appointees are members of the senior division of the ROTC units at the respective coleges who will be graduated at the mid-term of the current school year.

The Army also named in the Fourth Army area 660 of the national figure of 971 distinguished military students for appointments as second lieutenants at the end of the current school year. These appointments are to be effective June 15, 1952.

All the June appointments are conditional, based on the successful completion of the academic year and the maintenance of the high standards required of distinguished military graduates.

There are 18,000 Army ROTC members in the Fourth Army, which embraces the states of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, and New Mexico.

The largest enrollment of Army ROTC students is at Texas A&M with 2,617. Oklahoma A&M has 2,308 and Oklahoma University, 1,391. Among other colleges in the Fourth Army area are Texas University with 653; Louisiana State University, 1,088; Arlington, 729; Arkansas, 597; Tulane, 512; New Mexico Military Institute, 458; St. Mary's, 393; and Baylor, 234.

'Earn Own Living'

The Atlantic treaty, he declared, "is the surest guarantee not only of the prevention of war, but of victory, should our hopes be blasted."

The 77-year-old British leader, because of bad weather, cancelled plans to fly back to Washington this morning. Instead, he planned to leave by train, (4:30 p.m., EST), arriving in the capital about noon tomorrow.

He is tentatively scheduled to sail for Britain aboard the Queen Mary on Jan. 23. His departure will follow 19 days of reviewing urgent problems with President Truman, Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and other top American and Canadian officials.

Churchill appeared somewhat tired from his round of conferences during his speech last night. But his flowing oratory, sprinkled with praise for Canada, drew repeated bursts of applause from the 300 guests.

At no point did he mention Russia by name as a menace to world peace. The closest he came was when he said the 12-nation Atlantic pact sprang from a desperate need to counter a "specific danger."

In an apparent move to prepare the British people for more belt-tightening, he said:

"The ordeal that lies before us will be hard and will not be short.

With outthrust jaw, he added, however, that the British "do not want to live on our friends and relations, "the British want to earn their own living and pay their own way, he said.

Predicts "Magnificent Future"

Churchill predicted "a magnificent future" awaits Canada—"if only we can all get through the present hideous world muddle."

Despite the present dangers, he expressed confidence that eventually "all will be well."

"We shall provide against and thus prevail over the dangers and problems of the future," he said. "We shall withhold no sacrifice, grudge no toil, seek no sordid gain, fear no foe.

"We have, I believe, within us the life strength and guiding light by which the tormented world around us may find its harbor of safety after a storm-beaten voyage."

"I think I may say that without getting mixed up in party politics," he added with a wink.

City Council

This made it impossible to use more than one field, he said.

The city council took no action on the request, but voted to help the Little League in every way possible.

Organized last summer, the Little League is composed of boys 12 years old and under, who form two teams representing College Station, and six teams representing Bryan.

A committee, appointed by Ernest Langford, Mayor of College Station, to locate and consider the purchase of a park for Negroes, reported consideration was being given a plot adjoining Lincoln School. The land is owned by the Ed Hrdlicka estate. Members of the committee are Howard Baggett and Harry Boyer.

Other business included the passing of a resolution to invite a student representative to meet with the council at their monthly sessions, and the hearing of a complaint by the manager of the B&B Grill.

Odens Show Flowers At Garden Club

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Odem made a variety of novelty flower arrangements before the A&M Garden Club which met in the MSC Assembly Room Friday.

One arrangement was made with an electric fountain. The fountain was in a bowl of tulips and degon-it leaves, now on display in the MSC.

Mrs. Ralph Lee and Mrs. J. S. Mogford made floral decorations using cactus, branding irons, and other articles that might represent West of the Pecos.

The club chose to go to the Dogwood Trail in Palestine the last of March for their annual pilgrimage.

The home gardener's forum scheduled for February in the year book will not be held until a later date, said Mrs. Fred E. Weick, reporter.

Door prizes were won by Mrs. C. M. Reynoehl and Mrs. T. W. Martin.

New Laws Cause Additional Tickets

Parking violation tickets have been floating around frequently since College Station's new parking ordinance went into effect at the North Gate.

Police Chief Lee Norwood stated that he gave more than 70 tickets for parking violations the first three days, but that people were co-operating nicely now.

"A person can now go to the North Gate and find a parking place with very little trouble whereas before, some cars remained parked at the gate all day leaving little space to park," Norwood said.

Forest Service Work Outlined At Lions Meet

Arbor Day was the theme of the Lions Club meeting Monday, as the group heard Howard Weaver of the Texas Forest Service tell how that organization plants and grows seedlings in Texas.

Meeting at their regular noon luncheon session in the MSC, the civic club heard Weaver give a brief discription of the Arbor Day history, and then a summary of forest service activities at its Indian Mound Nursery near Alto.

With the aid of projected color slides, Weaver followed the history of a seedling from the time it is planted until it is a full grown tree.

He said the Texas Forest Service, a part of the A&M System, will plant 11,000,000 seedlings in 1952, with orders already received for 20,000,000 next year.

Crime Don't Pay

Candy Stealing 'GI' Comes Out Winner

Tokyo, Tuesday, Jan. 15—(AP)—In spite of all, the former corporal with the aching sweet tooth—who ate his way into a box of chocolates and right out of General Ridgway's Honor Guard—has a bride.

The Army relented that much. It permitted Pfc. Linwood E. Smith, Fredericksburg, Va., to marry Jean Marck of Baltimore.

The two were married Friday at the U. S. consulate. A religious ceremony was performed the next day.

But all is not bliss for the Smiths.

Smith, now at Camp Drake near Tokyo, said he expected to be "shipped out" tomorrow or Thursday to the United States for reassignment.

MRS. SMITH, a clerk in the army's special services section, said she would have to stay until she completes her contract in August.

"That's 223 days," she sighed.

If she wants to leave earlier, she will have to pay her own fare and reimburse the army for her fare to Tokyo.

Smith's troubles started Jan. 3 during a 10-minute "break" from his duty as honor guard at Ridgway's headquarters.

Smith—it was corporal then—wandered into the supreme Allied commander's outer office. A box of candy lay temptingly in view.

"I LIFTED the lid," he recalled, ruefully. "The box had been opened and I tried a piece. Then I took several more to give to the other boys."

The army earlier identified the other boys as Pvts.—formerly privates first class—John W. King, Roan Mountain, Tenn., and Herbert Branch, Starbuck, Minn.

Both still are in the honor guard.

The loss was discovered by Ridgway's personal secretary. Then came the investigation.

SMITH, A purple heart veteran of the Korea fighting and holder of the Good Conduct ribbon, said he stepped forward and admitted his misdeed when it looked as if the honor of the whole guard company might be smirched.

He said he ate four honey nougats and one mint.

The army immediately reduced his rating and took back his Good Conduct ribbon. Smith said he would miss the $13 pay difference that went with the corporal rating.

"That was the most expensive candy I ever tasted," said Pfc. Smith.

Hooper To Attend Conference Here

Bob Hooper, president, and Raymond Hollingsworth, secretary, of the American Quarter Horse Ass'n., will attend the annual meeting to be held at A&M Feb. 13-14. Hooper is from Plainview and Hollingsworth from Amarillo, headquarters of the association.

Ike Dahlberg of the Animal Husbandry Department said today that 150 will attend the meeting.
