The bidding:

Opening lead — queen of hearts.

This deal occurred some 30 years ago in one of the many world championship confrontations between the United States and the now legendary Italian Blue Team. Although Italy, as always, won the match, the Americans scored a substantial pickup on the deal, thanks to a combination of good luck at one table and a bit of chicanery at the other.

When Lee Hazen and Harry Fishbein held the North-South cards, they reached three notrump as West led the queen of hearts. East to play the jack if he had When East produced that card were continued, Fishbein took ace on the third round.

Fishbein passed the first when he tried the diamond and it worked. With eight assured, the contract now hinged whether East or West had the clubs.

After cashing five diamonds bein led a club to the king. held, he quickly cashed the spades to make his contract score of 600 points.

At the other table, things radically different turn w bidding went as follows:

After North's pass, Sidney East, gazing at a poor hand knew was faced by an unimpressive holding, decided situation called for desperate sures. Putting on a bold strength, he leaped to game everyone passed!

The coup was eminently ful. Fry went down three for 150 points, but this, combined the result at the other table, U.S. a pickup of 450 points deal.
