

THE BATTALION, COLLEGE STATION, TEXAS.

member making the most improvement in society work during 93-94, to be conferred at the end of the session by vote of the society. The society is indebted to Mr. John W. Hawkins, class 92-93 for the above. (4.) A gold medal to be awarded during the session of 93-94 for the best of three orations to be decided by judges appointed by the president of the society, and the donor, Mr. Willet Wilson, class of '93, is to be furnished with a copy of each oration. All of these medals are well worth competing for, and are well calculated to arouse that interest, and enthusiasm that always characterizes success.

Orders for Sentinels on Post.

Orders for sentinels on post are divided into two classes, general orders and special orders.

Sentinels will be required to memorize the following:

My general orders are:

To take charge of this post and all public and private property in view:

To walk my post in a military manner, keeping constantly on the alert, observing everything that takes place within sight or hearing;

To report every breach of orders or regulations that I am instructed to enforce;

To repeat all calls from posts more distant from the guard house than my own;

To quit my post only when properly relieved;

To receive, transmit and obey all orders from and allow myself to be relieved by the president, commandant officer of the day, an officer or non-commissioned officer of the guard only;

To hold conversation with no one except in the proper discharge of my duty.

In case of fire or disorder to give the alarm;

To allow no one to commit nuisance in the vicinity of my post;

In any case not covered by instructions, to call the corporal of the guard;

To salute all officers and colors or standards not used;

At night to exercise the greatest vigilance. Between retreat (—o'clock, naming the hour designated by the commandant) and broad daylight, challenge all persons on or near my post, and allow no person to pass without proper authority.

In addition to the foregoing, sentinels posted at the guard-house or guard tent will be required to memorize the following:

Between reveille and retreat, to turn out the guard for all persons entitled to the compliment, for all colors or standards not used, and for all parties approaching my post, except troops at drill and reliefs or detachments of the guard.

At night, after challenging any person or party, to advance no one, but call the corporal of the guard, repeating the answer to the challenge.

My special orders are:

Give number, limits and extent of post.

Allow no visiting.

Allow no one to linger in hall, to run in hall or up or down stairs.

Allow no one in hall improperly dressed.

Allow no smoking in hall.

Allow no wood or water to be carried during study hours.

Allow no talking from one room to another.

Allow no loud or unnecessary noise in barracks nor musical instruments to be played during study hours.

Allow no talking to sentinel.

EXPLANATORY.

THE BATTALION was delayed on account of a heavy rush of work in this office, and we being unable to obtain extra help at the time needed.
