CLASS ELECTIONS HELD THIS WEEK

C. J. DAVIS, P. H. OLSON AND J. SHELTON ELECTED CLASS PRESIDENTS.

MORE INTEREST IS SHOWN

Last Saturday afternoon the following officers of the senior class were elected: C. J. Davis, president; L. W. Brown, vice-president; F. W. Cawthon, secretary-treasurer, and G. A. Saper, historian. Four members of the Students' Council—W. S. Gillespie, V. Smitham, J. H. Moore and W. L. Rutan—were elected. E. N. Hogue and C. J. Davis were elected to serve on the discipline committee. Officers for the Thanksgiving hop were elected as follows: President, T. L. Bell; arrangements, O. W. Greene; reception, W. B. Francis; program and invitation, W. S. Gillespie; finance, V. A. Baraco; floor, W. K. Hanson; decoration, H. J. Morgan.

The same afternoon officers of the sophomore class were elected: President, J. Shelton; vice-president, M. S. Duncan; secretary-treasurer, E. O. Youngblood; historian, B. Moreland; members of the Students' Council, J. G. Beasley, G. A. Powers, M. B. Gibson, J. R. Barnes.

On Tuesday afternoon the junior class officers were elected. P. H. Olson was again made president; vice-president, A. Moses; secretary-treasurer, R. H. Wooten; historian, H. A. Jopling; members of the Students' Council, J. D. Brown, R. H. Wooten, C. M. Easley, T. R. Camp.

There has been much favorable comment on the way the elections are being held, and there is more interest being manifested than ever before. In the recent elections almost every member of the senior class voted and about two-thirds of the juniors. The sophomores, however, did not do quite so well, only about one-third of the class voting.

IMPORTANT CORRECTION.

The headline in last week's issue, which read, "Farmers Lost to Trinity," should have read Farmers Tie With Trinity. This error was all the greater because the score, 0-0, was not stated in the body of the article. How such an error was made the editor is unable to explain, unless it be by saying that he was in that state of mind, as, indeed, the whole corps was, when he wrote the heading.

All sophomores are cordially invited to attend the Sophomore Bible Class, which meets in the old chapel at 9:15 every Sunday morning. We are studying "Men of the Old Testament," under the leadership of Dr. Fountain.

E. B. CARTWRIGHT, President.

CORPS GIVES TO CHRISTMAS SHIP

CADETS OPEN THEIR HEARTS AND PURSES TO LITTLE ONES ACROSS THE SEA.

PEANUTS WILL BE SENT

Before the chapel audience last Sunday morning A. E. Burges made a brief talk, in which he called attention to the dreary prospects the children in Continental Europe have for a Christmas this year and explained the mission of the Christmas ship Jason, which is to be furnished by the United States government and is to sail from New York harbor on November 10th, under the auspices of the Red Cross Society, laden with presents for the orphans of Europe. At the conclusion of his talk he appealed to the corps to do their part toward stocking this ship, and asked all who were willing to give five cents or more for this cause to raise their hands. The response was most gratifying. About four-fifths of those present responded.

Sunday night the first sergeants were called up and requested to make the collections, each in his own company, and they were given a supply of Christmas ship receipts furnished by the Houston Post to distribute as souvenirs to those contributing. Up until Wednesday morning the collection amounted to $64.07 paid in. However, about half of the collectors stated that they had not yet finished collecting and would turn in the remainder later. This extra amount should bring the total up to $70. Credit is due these collectors for their voluntary work. An itemized statement of the expenditure of this money will be published next week, if possible. A statement of the amount received from each company follows:

Band	$ 2.25
"A" Company	7.65
"B" Company	4.05
"C" Company	5.70
"D" Company	3.57
"E" Company	8.50
"F" Company	6.40
"G" Company	2.30
"H" Company	3.30
"I" Company	3.75
"K" Company	6.90
"L" Company	7.05
"M" Company	2.65

Total.....$64.07

CAMPUS LADIES, ATTENTION.

Our society editor, Miss Proctor, requests all campus residents to phone her at 54-3 rings about all dinners, clubs, personals, etc., in order that none may go unmentioned.

A. & M. AND T. U. HOLD LOVE FEAST

TWO GREAT STATE INSTITUTIONS BURY HATCHET AND SMOKE PEACE PIPE.

EACH CHEERS THE OTHER

The two following clippings, which were taken from the Taylor Daily Press, but published in various other newspapers of the State, show the progress of the rather sudden reconciliation between the University and A. & M.:

Austin, Friday, Oct. 16.—Evidences of growing friendliness between the University of Texas and the Agricultural and Mechanical College athletic relations have been brought to light by letters which have recently been exchanged between L. Theo. Bellmont, director of athletics at the University, and A. E. Burges, editor of the Battalion, the A. & M. paper. In reply to complimentary athletic tickets sent the Battalion Mr. Burges says: "As you probably know, the A. & M. College corps plans to attend the A. & M. Haskell game at Fort Worth October 23, and from there go to Dallas the next day. This will be the first time since 1911 that the two student bodies have been in the same city at the same time, and I feel sure that the opportunity for the formation of personal acquaintanceships will do much toward bringing about a better understanding between the students of the two great State institutions. It is the intention of the Agricultural and Mechanical College corps to 'root' for the University during the game, and this fact in itself is an indication of the growing spirit of friendliness over in this quarter."

In reply Director Bellmont said: "Kindly allow me to express our appreciation of your good wishes for the success of our team, sentiments which are heartily reciprocated. We are also glad to learn that we shall have the support of the corps at the Dallas game." Mr. Bellmont then explained that owing to railroads' failure to grant low excursion rates the plan for a general excursion of Texas students has been abandoned, but that "a good number will, however, undoubtedly attend the Dallas game and will appreciate the opportunity of meeting the students of your institution."

Director Bellmont, in a letter to J. M. Love, manager of athletics at the A. & M. College, invites the A. & M. football squad to attend the game at Dallas as the University's guests, sending twenty-five complimentary tickets to be distributed to the football men. In addition to this he offers to grant a special reduced rate to the Agricultural and Mechanical College students at the Dallas game with Oklahoma.

A. & M. CRUSHES T. C. U.'S HOPES

FARMERS SHOW OLD FORM—SPECTACULAR PLAYS MADE. SCORE 40-0.

OLD TIME SNAKE DANCE

In the fastest game of the season A. & M. overwhelmed the T. C. U. team by a score of 40-0. The farmers came back strong and more than redeemed the Trinity game. The game was one long string of surprises. Moran shifted his line and backfield and the result was a real football team. Everett was shifted to the backfield. Brown to end and Braumiller played in the backfield for a part of the game.

Everett was undoubtedly the star of the day. In two successive downs he went 90 yards for a touchdown. He also made a 25-yard run for a touchdown in the second quarter. Besides this he was partly responsible for the rest of the scores that were made. He was good for a long gain every time he got the ball. He kicked one of the goals also. Tyre played his same old reliable game of football. He carried the ball 15 yards for the first touchdown and made good gains every time he carried the ball. Bell kicked two of the goals also. Coleman played the best game of football that he has ever played. He passed the ball in the same old way, made good gains on line bucks and on the defensive he got his man every time. "Sot" Cawthon earned the title of "Johnny on the Spot." Every time a ball was fumbled "Sot" was right there on the job, and when the whistle blew he always had the ball. Cawthon broke up the only chance T. C. U. had to score by intercepting one of their forward passes, and when "Sot" tackled a man that settled it; he was down. Settegast and Braumiller showed the Christians how the Dutch went through France. Both of them went through the line repeatedly for long gains, and on the defense they were like a stone wall. Settegast went through the line for a touchdown twice. The Christians just naturally couldn't hold him. Scott ran the team better than he ever did before. He made one of the touchdowns on a revolving wedge play, that was one of Coach Moran's surprises. It was an old time play, but its effectiveness was proven when it netted a touchdown after other methods of attack had failed. Sergeant Kenny is said to have given this kind of play to Coach. Scott's kicking was excellent and the way he returned kicks made the Christians sit up and take notice. Johnny Garrity was right on the job all the time. He broke up many a T. C. U. play and made several pretty runs. Hans Rothe got into the game right from the start and he was very successful in helping Nick and Sette-
