Quartermaster Retains Care Of Ill Reveille

By FRED MEURER
 Battalion Managing Editor
 Custody of Reveille II, A&M's mascot since 1951 who is reported in ill health, should remain in the hands of the Quartermaster Corps until the dog's death, the Student Senate recommended last night.

The 9-year-old mascot is afflicted with kidney trouble and her life is feared to be in danger. Bill Myers, chairman of the Issues Committee, said "Rev" might live for "two weeks or three years" depending on her response to medical treatment.

Myers suggested that Reveille stay with the Quartermasters because of "tradition and their love for the dog," with the understanding that the veterinary company have priority on housing Reveille II after the present mascot dies.

Reveille II has been in and out of the news all year, first for her discriminate antics on the football gridiron and later for biting a Texas Christian University coach during halftime. Her actions were then blamed on "anxiety due to her old age," and she was muzzled for some of the following games.

Memorial Scholarship
 Senate discussion arose around an A&M Memorial Scholarship Fund which has been on the Senate agenda for some time. Myers' committee has drawn up a 5-point plan for the $1,000 grant which would "honor the memory of departed relatives and friends with living memorials in lieu of flowers."

The scholarship will be administered by the Former Students Assn., with the Senate to handle the publicity end of the matter. Necessary administrative details will be worked out by a Senate committee in conjunction with the P.S.A.

36 Seniors Put On Revised AF DMS Roster

An order issued by the Department of Air Science yesterday retained 36 of the original 50 senior Distinguished AF ROTC Cadets recognized last Oct. 15.

Cadets on the roster were screened by the Distinguished AF ROTC Board and were placed on the new list with the approval of Col. Charles E. Gregory, Professor of Air Science, and the appropriate deans.

Larry G. Garrison, Melbern G. Glasscock, Jerry D. Gleason, Harvey J. Haas, James A. Hataway, Glen D. Hitchcock, Marcus R. Hudgins, John R. Johnson, Elmer E. Kunkle, Robert T. G. Lassiter and Edward F. Lednicki.

Frederick A. Meurer, Monroe D. Mitchell, Lado Muhlstein Jr., John H. Partridge Jr., Dwane G. Pepper, Robert T. Pfeuffer, Bobby W. Phillips, Hoy A. Richards, Charles H. Robison, Jay R. Roland, Wayne O. Smith Jr., James D. Terry, Floyd S. Thompson and Hubert C. Vykukal.

Low Bowl Game Profit
 Myers expressed displeasure with the rough profit of about $156 realized from the 12th Man Bowl game played two weeks ago. Of the $455.80 income, he said about $290 had been paid for expenses.

The Issues chairman said his committee was open for suggestions so that future contests pitting the Army and Air Force ROTC stars could earn profits on a par with 12th Man Bowl clashes of the past.

Muster, Parents' Day
 Ronny Stallings, chairman of the Public Relations Committee, said the Aggie Muster this April 21 would be held on the Memorial Student Center lawn at 5 p. m.

Main speaker at the San Jacinto Day ceremony which honors deceased Aggies will be Congressman Olin E. Teague, who will be introduced by A&M President M. T. Harrington.

Parents' Day will be held at 11 a. m. on Sunday, May 10, in Guion Hall, Pat Mauritz, chairman of the Student Life Committee, reported. Further plans are being worked out by the group.

Don Rummell, chairman of the Student Welfare Committee, told the Senate the "Aggie Mother of the Year" would be chosen sometime after Easter. He said a list of requirements would be worked out in the meantime.
