Staff Parking Survey Results Told Yesterday

By BOB SLOAN
Battalion Staff Writer

The results of a survey concerning the proposed faculty and staff parking regulations were released Wednesday by James P. Hannigan, dean of students.

The plan would mean that faculty and staff members would have to pay an annual vehicle registration fee of $7.50, provided they use regular parking space. Persons who do not wish to pay the $7.50 fee may pay a $1 fee and will be able to park in one of the "fringe" parking lots. These lots are located on the south side of the campus in the lot southeast of Kyle Field and on the north side of the campus in the lot east of the B&CU building.

About 1,900 persons have asked for individual parking spaces. About 100 persons indicated they would park in the fringe parking areas. There are about 2,300 available parking spaces on the campus according to Bennie A. Zinn, director of the Department of Student Affairs.

He added that the fringe permits barred parking in any zoned areas on the campus from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, Monday through Friday, and from 7 a.m. to noon on Saturdays.

Faculty and staff members who pay the $7.50 fee are entitled to a windshield sticker which will authorize parking within his area or zone and at "Reserved-Visitor" places in all other zoned areas, said Hannigan.

He added that each of the six zoned areas will be assigned to an administrative staff officer who may make specific assignments to staff members in a parking lot or to a specific place on the street.

Registrants may register additional vehicles at $1 each, said Hannigan. For the current year the $7.50 registration fee will be reduced to approximately $5 to account for the months which will have already passed before the plan goes into effect.

Hannigan said that the Executive Committee will have to decide on the final plan. "It will take a couple of months for the lots to be painted and spaces assigned. We hope to start registering vehicles some time before Christmas and start parking in the new places about Jan. 1," he said.

"As soon as some definite decisions have been made, we will put out the information," Hannigan said.

Hannigan stressed that student wives who work on the campus will continue to receive student registration stickers as in the past. This is the student permit with special permit to park at the place of work.

U. S. Department of Agriculture and U. S. Post Office employes who will park in the government-owned lots will not have to get the campus sticker, Hannigan said. He added that if the cars were to be parked on campus, the sticker would be necessary.

Graduate teaching assistants, if they are enrolled in any courses, will get the student parking permit plus a special permit for parking at the place of their employment.

Persons employed in janitorial work and whose cars will be parked on campus only after 5 p.m. or before 7 a.m. will need only the $1 parking permit, said Hannigan.

TWU Choir Group To Be Here Friday

The Modern Choir of Texas Woman's University will present a concert Friday evening at 8 in the Memorial Student Center Ballroom. The concert was previously scheduled for 7 p.m. Friday.

This performance sponsored by the MSC Music Committee is open to the public.

The groups first appearance at A&M will be Thursday night at 8 in the A&M Methodist Church. This program will also be open to the public.

Seating Report, Bonfire Week Headline CSC

A seating report and a discussion of the nearing bonfire week will headline the new business at the Civilian Student Council meeting tonight at 7:30 in the Senate Chamber of the Memorial Student Center.

Old business will include a report from the Parking Committee, a report from the Elections Committee and a Chaplain's Report, Mike Carlo, secretary, said today.

Dean of Students James P. Hannigan was honored guest at the last meeting and he said that he hoped to get to know all the council members well and added that if he could help them with their problems in any way, they should not hesitate to come and see him.

Powderpuff Bowl Slated for Friday

BY RUSSELL BROWN
CSC Correspondent

The merriment of the second annual Powderpuff Bowl begins promptly at 7:30 p.m. Friday on Tiger Field as the Class of '62, the sophomore Grasshoppers, meet the best of the Class of '63, the freshman Tiger Lilies, in a wild and woolly female flag football tilt.

Both clubs boast 28 members with the coaches drilling both squads strenuously for over a week. Coaches Mike Denison and Bruce Thompson of the Green and White 'Hoppers plan to run the single wing attack while Coach Art Bright of the Black and Gold goes with the split T formation.

The probable starters, even though all 56 girls will see plenty of action, are for the Grasshoppers: Nancy Beamer and Carole Murray at ends, Louise Robinson and Donna Maddox at tackles, Joan Hager and Virginia McAfee at guards, and Carla Denison at center. Sherry Thompson runs from tailback, Margaret Castle at blocking back, Jannell Yeager at wingback, and Linda Todd at fullback. Miss Todd and Judy Mills are co-captains.

Ready for play will be reserves Marsha Chalk, Margaret Patterson, Brenda Hearne, Linda Ryatt, Jeannie Sperry, Lillian Bond, Shirley Lorenz, Sandra Sayers, Ruth McNeil, Susan Minor, Janet Durst, Kay Duke, Eileen Floeck, Miss Mills, Vicky Kemmer, Marcy Goode and Susan Redmond.

The Lilies are going with Rosemary Thompson and Connie Simmons at ends, Judy Morgan and Ann Loupot at tackles, Carolyn and Marilyn Parker at the guards and Carol Ann Kincannon at center. In the backfield is Peggy Ames at quarterback, Linda De Vault and Emily Calhoun will be at the halves and Sherry Smith will be at full.

Bench warmers are Diane Hooper, Suzanne Flowers, Jean Ozment, Della Gregg, Frances Cunningham, Mary Bell, Susie Stevenson, Sue Ann Davis, Donna Helmer, Janet Bearrie, Candy Garner, Ivy Courtney, Sharon Smith, Judy Jackson and tri-captains Diane Parsons, Cynthia Smith and Eleanor Worley.

In their final comments to the press, Coaches Denison and Bright both agreed on a close tilt. Bright quipped, "If they don't score, we can tie them." Denison countered with, "It will be a rough, even game."

Annual All-Aggie Rodeo Set Tonight in Aggie Arena

All-Aggie Rodeo Action

Eight Events Top Three-Night Show

Tension is mounting among the Aggie cowboys, because tonight marks the opening of the 38th annual All-Aggie Rodeo at 8 in the Aggie Arena.

Sponsored by the Saddle and Siroin Club in conjunction with the A&M Rodeo Club, the affair will feature five standard events, including bareback bronc riding, saddle bronc riding, calf roping, steer wrestling and the highlight of any rodeo, wild bull riding.

Along with calf roping, a ribbon roping will be featured and this year cow saddling and pig scramble have been added to the rodeo agenda as an intramural sport.

According to Bobby Bennett, Rodeo Club reporter, cow saddling is "where about 10 cows are turned out and cowboy teams catch a cow, saddle it, and ride it across a designated line."

"In pig scrambling," Bennett said, "the stock is turned out and teams scramble for them, get one and then carry it back to the starting point. The first man back to the starting point is the winner."

The rodeo will run three nights, starting tonight, and all Aggies and members of the college staff are eligible to enter the events. Entry fees are $10 for all events except calf roping, which is $15.

Gene Yeager, Rodeo Club secretary, is handling rodeo entries this year. He lives in Apartment C-9-D College View.

Top performers entered in the rodeo this year are Lynn Turner, national champion high school roper who is now standing third in NIRA regional tie-down roping; John Becker, who was 1958 All-Aggie ribbon roping champion and is now standing second in the NIRA ribbon roping and Phillip Cox, who took bareback riding honors at the show four years ago.

Doyle McSpadden, A&M's champion all-around Intercollegiate Rodeo Assn. cowboy, recently had a knee operation, and will not be able to compete this year.

Members of the team that will be competing for prizes are Bennett, Eddie Rosenberger, Andy Bond, James Waldrop, Bobby Sims, Jim King, Keith Kidwell, and the previously mentioned outstanding performers, Cox and Becker.

Kenneth Beasley and Rodney Butler will act as arena directors for the rodeo.

Committee Sets Budget

CS United Chest Combines Several Fund Driving Groups

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of articles which the Battalion will run as a public service to the people of the College Station relative to the College Station United Chest and the agencies which are participating in it. The Chest drive will be conducted Nov. 1-15.)

The College Station United Chest combines 14 agencies into one united drive. This year's budget has been set at $13,150 by the Chest Committee.

This article deals with the following agencies which are participating in the budget in the amount indicated: The College Station Community House $300, College Station Youth Facilities Council $400, College Station YMCA $400.

The College Station Community House Inc. was organized about five years ago to provide a kindergarten for colored children, particularly for those of families where both mother and father work and are away from home most of the day. The organization now owns a house and lot near Lincoln School. The agency is administered by a Board of white and colored budget in the United Chest. These funds will be used for the installation of permanent equipment in the areas in Hensel Park. The YMCA citizens. In September of 1959, 35 children were enrolled with parents paying a tuition fee of $1.25 per week. These fees are not sufficient to meet the operating expenses. Therefore, $300 has been set aside in the United Chest for this cause.

The College Station Youth Facilities Council has requested $400 of the total budget of the Chest. This money would be used by the Council to proceed in the lighting of the A&M Consolidated Schools' slab. The College Station YMCA has been apportioned $400 of the total has long felt a need for such equipment and feels that the improvements will render the park of greater service to the community. The big need in the Park now is the provision of a drinking fountain, more tables and picnic areas and playground equipment.

Other agencies will be discussed in later articles.

Dance, Music To Highlight Rue Pinalle

Three performers are slated to headline entertainment at the traditional Cafe Rue Pinalle at 8 p.m. Friday in the Lower Level of the Memorial Student Center.

The Collegiates, a band under the direction of Richard Smith, will furnish the music.

Scheduled for appearance are Bargara Halas, Hawaiian dancer from Oahu, Hawaii and Kathy Harris from McKinney, Tex., a singer. Both lasses are students at Texas Woman's University. Also docketed for performance is Jerry Brown, freshman piano player from Dallas.

The dance is sponsored by the MSC Dance Committee for all Aggies and dates. Rue Pinalle is known as 'the Aggie version of French night life.'

The event, along with the 38th annual Aggie Rodeo, will kick-off a weekend filled with activity, including the Aggie-Baylor Southwest Conference grid clash Saturday afternoon.

Gift From Class of '59

The class of '59 presents funds to the College Archives with which to build three display show cases. The show cases will be placed in the foyer between the bowling alley and the fountain room of the Memorial Student Center. A display of archives material of the earliest history of A&M up to the present will be placed in the show cases. Shown accepting the gift is Robert A. Houze, center, College librarian and chairman of the College Archives and Historical committee and Earnest Langford, right, archivist. Presenting the gift is John Thomas of Hereford, class agent.
