

New Student Director Here For Presbyterian Center

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Arlen L. Fowler and family have arrived in College Station where he will be director of Presbyterian Student Work with headquarters at the Presbyterian Student Center, 200 Montclair St. The Fowlers have moved from Guthrie, Okla., where he has been pastor of the First Presbyterian Church for the past three years.

'Long Gray Line' Members Hear Rudder at Fort Hood

Special to The Battalion
Members of the "Long Gray Line" meeting at Fort Hood heard an emphasis on West Point's responsibility for leadership from a leader and educator, President Earl Rudder.

President Rudder was the main speaker at a dinner meeting of the West Point Society in the Fort Hood Officers Club last Wednesday.

Introduced by Brig. Gen. Robert Q. Brown, commander of Fort Hood and 2nd Armored Division, President Rudder said the U. S. Military Academy has given the country great leadership in the past and faces the responsibility for future great leadership.

He said West Point graduates have demonstrated their leadership abilities in many fields in peacetime as well as in war—in surveying the country, for example, and building dams and canals.

AG SECRETARY

he termed "a popular but hard way." Many young college graduates in agriculture go to work for wages and rent a piece of land. Then they buy and collect machinery. Eventually they buy a little land and begin expansion of their own place. This takes several years, but is the pattern followed by many.

Benson stated that there has been a lot of misinformation in regard to agriculture. "Four-fifths of agriculture today is free of control... in these areas we find a pretty good balance."
He said that the area of most difficulty is where the government has tried to fix prices. He criticized the present wheat subsidy program as a "horse and buggy program."

Concerning the presidential elections, Benson said that he has not planned to campaign actively.

Dr. O. D. Butler, head of the Department of Animal Husbandry, and Dr. R. E. Patterson, vice chancellor of agriculture, attended the first sessions of the convention Monday and Tuesday. Other representatives from A&M were expected to attend the Wednesday morning sessions when the problem of screw worm eradication was to be discussed.

The Rev. Mr. Fowler was reared in Bartlesville, Okla., and graduated from Oklahoma State University with a B.A. degree in Political Science in 1952. Prior to his college days he served in the U. S. Navy and following graduation was commissioned as a 2nd Lt. in the U. S. Army and served in Korea. After his return from active duty, the Rev. Mr. Fowler entered Princeton Seminary where he was granted the B.D. degree in 1957 after which he was ordained by Cimarron Presbytery of the United Presbyterian Church, USA.

In addition to his pastoral work, the Rev. Mr. Fowler has worked for the YMCA in Tulsa as assistant boys work secretary and has helped with student work both at Oklahoma State University and the University of Oklahoma. He is a Mason and is active in the U. S. Army Reserve as a Chaplain.

The Fowlers with their three young children are living at 304 Gilchrist St. in College Station.

TWU Group Dances Friday

Original dance arrangements and Negro spirituals will be presented by 17 girls of the Texas Woman's University Modern Dance Group Friday, in the Ballroom of the Memorial Student Center.

The group will sing "De Gospel Trail," "Let My People Go," "Go Tell It on the Mountain," "Little David, Play on Your Harp" and "Walk Together, Children."

The original dance compositions to be presented in the MSC include "Chopsticks Fantasy," "Waltz Ballet" and "It's Old—It's New—It's Dance," and a saga of a Texas cowboy called "Sun and Sack."

Organized 23 years ago, the girls have performed in Houston, Tulsa, Birmingham, Louisville and Nashville. While performing at the International Convention of Physical Therapists in New York City, they danced before 2,000 delegates.

The members of the group are Armda Barela, Ann Brown, Karen Cohenaur, Carolyn Cox, Elaine Davis, Dora Gonzalez, Genevieve Hogue, Andrea Keepers, Mary Martha Monroe, Nella Nagy, Enriquetta Olivares, Kay Osborne, Gloria Padilla, Betty Poindexter, Ann Wilson, Nancy Wright and Rose Anna Zamora.

Solo numbers will be presented by Misses Gonzalez, Osborne, Monroe and Madeline Sowards. Misses Cohenaur, Monroe and Osborne were featured in a trio and a quartet with Misses Cox, Keepers, Nagy and Zamora will also perform.

Singing Cadets Complete Tour; Prepare for Inauguration Date

The Singing Cadets under the direction of Dr. Bill Turner returned Sunday from a 4-day tour of South Texas and are preparing for their appearance at the dinner slated Saturday at noon as part of the inauguration ceremonies in honor of President Earl Rudder.

The tour of South Texas, which included performances at Gonzales, West Columbia, Refugio and Edna before approximately 2,050 people, marked the first appearance for the Singing Cadets in their new uniforms.

Saturday's appearance will mark their first appearance on campus in the uniforms. They were given the group by a former student who asked that his name not be revealed.

According to Carlos Worley, reporter-historian of the Singing Cadets, the group was a big hit at all four stops. They were given receptions and dances at the three night concerts, in Gonzales, Refugio and Edna, and were even afternoon guests at the Edna Country Club.

AAUP Will Here Library Officials

Tonight's meeting of the American Assn. of University Professors at 7:30 in the Biological Sciences Lecture Room will feature a panel discussion by A&M library officials.

"The Role of the Library in the Total Educational Program of the College" will be the topic of the panel discussion.

The panel, which will discuss the over-all role of the library at A&M, the integration of the library with undergraduate and graduate coursework, its function in special research and service areas and its teaching program, will be composed of Robert A. Houze, librarian, Michael V. Krenitsky, Cushing Memorial Library staff, and Frederick S. White of the Texas Engineers Library.

The discussion will be given in conjunction with National Library Week, April 3-9.

Old Spice
AFTER SHAVE LOTION

Skin protection, that is. Old Spice refreshes and stimulates, guards against the loss of vital skin moisture. Feels great, too. Brisk, bracing, with that tangy Old Spice scent. It does seem to attract female admirers, but what red-blooded man needs protection against girls? 1.00 plus tax
