

Commercial Feeding, Grading On Beef Short Course Docket

Commercial feeding and use of a new grading system will be emphasized during the annual Beef Cattle Short Course Aug. 8-10 in the Memorial Student Center.

Cattlemen, as guest speakers, and A&M staff members will discuss the latest problems and developments in commercial feeding operations, while a representative of the U. S. Department of Agriculture Grading Service will explain a proposed dual grading system for beef.

The short course is sponsored by the Department of Animal Husbandry in co-operation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Among those who will talk on cattle feeding are Oliver Whitener of Burton and Grady Shepard of Hale Center.

Whitener, who runs both registered and commercial and feeds calves on about 15,000 square feet of concrete feedlots, will talk on combining calves and feeds produced on the place. Shepard will discuss "What's Being Done with Farm Feedlots?"

Subjects on the first day include usefulness of carcass evaluation work, a carcass evaluation contest, genetic influences in cattle reproduction, Armour's beef cattle improvement program, the veterinarian's role in calf crop improvement, use of records in a beef cattle selection program, and frequency of supplemental feeding for range cattle.

On Aug. 9 talks will be made on cattle feeding resources in Texas, what is being done in large commercial feedlots, outlets for Texas cattle and feeds, advantages of a Texas cattle feeders association, performance of ear-implanted steers, sealed storage for moist grains and roughages, feed pelleting for beef cattle, and safe use of insecticides for livestock.

The Texas Beef Cattle Improvement Assn. will hold its annual meeting at 7:30 p.m. the second day.

Discussion subjects on Aug. 10 include slaughter and carcass traits, yields of various beef cuts, measures of muscling and their application to grading and selection, and evidences of meat quality.

Helping the voice of the people be heard

Automation still is only as good as the people who provide it. While we want you to enjoy the convenience and efficiency that automatic equipment brings, we hope you'll remember that every phase of telephone service is still very much a human business.

Even though you may not see them, telephone people are constantly at work to provide you with ever better telephone service.

Here's what the new 3 3/4% interest rate on U.S. Savings Bonds means to you:

$3=$4

fourteen months faster than before

The Bonds you own are better than ever, too

The new 3 3/4% rate means your savings grow faster than before with U.S. Savings Bonds. $3 becomes $4, or $3,000 becomes $4,000 in just seven years, nine months. This applies to all Series E Bonds bought since June 1, 1959.

Then, all older Bonds, both Series E and H, pay more now—an extra 1/2% from June 1 on, when held to maturity.

And, all Series E Bonds carry a new 10-year extension privilege. This means your Bonds will keep earning liberal interest automatically after maturity.

These three new cash benefits make today's U.S. Savings Bonds the finest in history. They make the ones you own now better, too.

More advantages of U.S. Savings Bonds

You can save automatically. Just tell your company how much to deduct every payday for Bonds, and your Bonds will be delivered to you. This way you can't forget to save. And, remember, the money you don't touch can't slip through your fingers.

You can get your money, with interest, when you need it. Your Bonds are a ready reserve to use anytime you wish. But, it pays well to hold them.

Your savings can't be lost or stolen. The U.S. Government guarantees to replace your Bonds, free, if anything ever happens to them.

You save more than money. The Bonds you buy help keep the peace because peace costs money. Money for better education, new scientific research, greater military strength. And the money you save helps strengthen our nation's economy which depends on the financial strength of individuals to keep it sound.

Start saving with U. S. Savings Bonds today. You'll save more than money.
