Wallace Is Fading, Nixon Believes

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Third party candidate George Wallace is fading and Democrat Hubert Humphrey has panicked into using "tactics of fear and smear," Republican Richard Nixon said Tuesday.

Before hitting out at Wallace and Humphrey, Nixon outlined plans for a campaign windup he called "Operation Extra Effort" which he said would produce the fastest finish in the history of presidential elections.

Nixon assailed Humphrey for suggesting that a Republican victory in the Nov. 5 balloting might lead to cutbacks in Social Security and Medicare.

In a statement issued at a Miami rally before flying on to Greensboro, N.C., and Knoxville, Tenn., Nixon said his Democratic rival was not only distorting the Nixon positions but "is callously raising and playing upon the fears of retired Americans" and is "trying to frighten 20 million Americans into believing a deliberate untruth."

The Republican candidate said, "Humphrey knows as well as I do that no American president is going to destroy the benefits or pensions that retired Americans have earned from a lifetime of work and contribution to their country and society."

Using some of the strongest language he has yet aimed at the Democratic candidate, Nixon said, "In the interest of elementary decency, Mr. Humphrey should put an end to these tactics of fear and smear."

At a news conference on the island of Key Biscayne near Miami, Nixon said of Humphrey: "I think he is panicking now . . . subsequently he is going to swing wilder and wilder."

The GOP presidential candidate said he would not change the tone of his own campaign oratory.

And he took this further whack at Humphrey: "I don't intend, frankly, to get down to his level so far as name calling is concerned."

Nixon said Wallace's campaign was "showing some erosion" and claimed the third party candidate

"has topped out." He said GOP polls show Wallace has peaked and would get about 15 per cent of the popular vote instead of 20 percent as some recent polls indicated.

Nixon said party-sponsored polls lead him to believe he is ahead in every major state.

However, the campaign wind-up plan he outlined indicated he would be taking no chances and would bear down heavily on the seven most populous states which he clearly views as the keys to the election.

Heart Patients Die After Transplants

HOUSTON (AP)—A Mesa, Ariz., schoolteacher who received a new heart Sept. 23 at Methodist Hospital died Tuesday night, less than 24 hours after another recipient died here.

A hospital spokesman said Verne L. Martin, 46, died at 6:20 p.m. He was the world's 52nd heart recipient and the 16th in Houston.

Martin, who had entered the hospital Aug. 12, suffered a cardiac arrest two days after the transplant operation.

He never regained consciousness following surgery, the spokesman said.

Louis J. Fierro, 54, Houston's fourth heart recipient, died Monday night at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital. Fierro, an Elmont, N. Y., used car salesman, received a new heart May 21. He left the hospital July 29 and was readmitted last week.

Martin received the heart of a Michael Ray Jennings, 17, of Houston, who died of head injuries suffered in a traffic accident.

A St. Luke's spokesman said Fierro's death was attributed to the rejection of the transplanted organ.

The exact cause of Martin's death will not be known until after a post mortem examination, the Methodist Spokesman said.

Meanwhile, Everett C. Thomas, this nation's longest living heart transplant recipient, was showing improvement although he remained in serious condition at St. Luke's.

Thomas, 47, a former Phoenix, Ariz., accountant, received a new heart May 3. He was readmitted to the hospital last Wednesday with what was described as symptoms of rejection.

Both Thomas and Fierro had taken jobs in Houston while receiving outpatient care at St. Luke's.

They were readmitted when they began complaining of vomiting and nausea. Both began receiving increased doses of drugs to help suppress rejection.

Doctors said Tuesday Thomas' blood pressure is good, and his condition appears to be stabilized. "They are still concerned but he has improved," the spokesman said.

Of the 59 heart transplant operations performed in the world, 17 have been performed in Houston. Nine of the recipients here survive.

Wallace Gets Ohio Ballot OK

George C. Wallace won a place on Ohio's Presidential ballot Tuesday in a Supreme Court ruling which enabled Wallace's name to appear on ballots in all fifty states.

Justice Hugo L. Black said in the 6-3 decision of the Supreme Court which advanced the rights of minority political parties that neither Ohio nor any other state may impose "burdensome" regulations on minor parties without compelling reasons.
