As many as 87 lives may be at risk as a result of traffic accidents to be expected during the Christmas period in Texas, according to John H. Eggleston, a member of the University's Department of Traffic Safety, who headlined Public Safety Week, which ended Friday.

Eggleston said the Safe-Tourism Plan, which involves two weekend sessions, is designed to reduce the number of traffic accidents.

He said a special "operation outbound" will be in effect during the period of busy travel, and people involved in traffic accidents will be passed on to the proper authorities.

The Safe-Tourism Plan will be a series of events for the weekend, including a walking campaign, a friendly competition for the most accidents, and a series of educational programs.
