Bass club tournaments yield awards

By BRUCE L. SUBLETT
Battalion Outdoor Writer

I want to let you all in on a little secret. There's some folks on this campus who are giving away trophies for catching bass.

No kidding, folks. Real, genuine, impressive silver and marble trophies. All you have to do to get one of these little jewels is join the Aggie Bass Club and be one of six fishermen (excuse me, "fisherpersons") to catch more pounds of bass in a tournament than the rest of the club. Simple.

Why, just this week, trophies went out to the winners of the November and December contests. James George and Ray Hinnant walked off with the big one for the November team tournament held at Conroe. Anyone who fished deserved a prize, because it was cold, I guarantee.

Joe Janac carted home the whole shooting match for the December roadrunner tournament. He took the first place trophy (a spectacular three-footer), an 84-quart ice chest and the $26 big bass pot. Tommy Nucho took second and Joe's brother Jimmy was third.

Besides being a legitimate excuse to go fishing, fishing with the Aggie Bass Club is a chance to prove once and for all that you are a success on the lake. Nobody can argue with a first-place trophy.

Looking back on a year of tournaments, the act of committing fishing is really secondary. The real purpose in going is to be around a bunch of fellows who can tell lies like you never heard before. Of course, they won't admit to stretching the truth, but what fisherman will?

Associating with this group is a great way to learn more about bass fishing. Several of the members were just getting started a year ago, and now they're fishing like pros.

Besides the trophies, the good bull and the coaching, members get to wear a really tough team shirt with AGGIE BASS CLUB emblazoned across the back for the whole world to see. Club members also get a lot of free product patches to adorn the shirts. Even if you're a lousy fisherman, a shirt like this makes everybody else think you're a pro.

Interested, are you? Well, the next meeting of the club will be Feb. 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the Rudder Tower. The next tournament is Feb. 7 and 8 out of Overlook Marina on Lake Somerville. Membership costs $6 from now through August and tour-namment fees are usually $5. Membership is open to students, faculty, staff and former students.

Besides Somerville, tournaments this spring will be Conroe in March, Livingston in April and Toledo Bend in May. The top six fishermen in the club will fish the Top Six tournament on Toledo in June.

Anyone who thinks he can put up with this kind of lunacy can contact Tommy Nucho (845-7419) or me, Bruce Sublett (845-4611).

Aggies' record 6-3 as UT wins, 55-49

By CAROLYN BLOSSER
Battalion Staff Writer

The University of Texas women's basketball team squeezed past A&M 55-49 in a seesaw battle last Tuesday night at Gregory gymnasium in Austin.

The loss drops A&M's record to 6-3 for the season. The Ags are still looking for their first win on the road.

A&M drew first blood, taking a 4-0 lead with goals from Cissy Auclair and Cindy Gough. But from then until the end of the first half, both teams struggled to stay ahead as the lead changed hands constantly. At halftime, the Longhorns held a slim, seemingly vulnerable 28-25 lead.

The Aggies came out in the second half, but their shooting didn't. They simply went cold. Nothing would go through.

Despite having 14 more turnovers than did the Aggies, Texas managed to hold on to their slim lead until the final seconds ticked off the clock.

The big gun in the Longhorn attack was the six-foot tall center Retha Swindell. Swindell consistently managed to get in perfect scoring position under the basket, scoring 22 of Texas' points, 17 of which came in the crucial moments during the second half.

Auclair led the scoring for the Ags, obtaining a personal game high of 23 points. Sally Morris and Gough were the other two high scorers for A&M, each getting 10 points.

Auclair also led the Aggies in rebounds with eight, while Morris and Margaret Byrne each grabbed six.

A&M will have another chance at the Longhorns when Texas comes to College Station Feb. 3 for a rematch at 5:15 p.m. in C. Rollie White Coliseum.

The travel-weary Aggies will be on foreign soil once again as they face Wharton this Friday night in Wharton.

Hockey team falls to Finns by six goals

Associated Press

PORI, Finland — The U.S. Olympic hockey team, which has hopes of winning a medal at the Innsbruck Games, was dealt a 9-3 defeat Wednesday by Finland. The Finns are one of the teams the Americans must defeat in order to win a medal at Innsbruck.

The Finns, who last week beat the Soviet Union 5-3, got seven goals in the first two periods against American goalie Jim Ward. Ward was replaced by Blaine Comstock in the third period, in which each team scored twice.

And after college, you'll receive a commission in the Air Force...go on to further, specialized training...and get started as an Air Force officer. There'll be travel, responsibility, and a lot of other benefits.

But it all starts right here...in college...in the Air Force ROTC. Things will look up...so look us up. No obligation, of course.
