

The Bacardi Driver. Zipper than a screwdriver. Easy as 1, 2, 3.

1. Pour 1 1/2 oz. Bacardi light rum over ice in a tall glass.
2. Pour on ice cold orange juice.
3. Squeeze and drop in a lime or lemon wedge. Now you're ready to sip some zip. Because Bacardi and that hint of lime or lemon really turn on the OJ!

BACARDI rum.
The mixable one.

History of Aggie uniform to be made into a book

The man who brought you illustrated histories of the Aggie uniform last year is now working to complete a book on the subject.

Walter H. Bradford of Vienna, Va., 1968 history graduate of Texas A&M University and former bandsman, is collecting information and memorabilia on uniforms for a volume he hopes will be published by fall in time for the final days of the Centennial Year observance.

His color illustrations and short histories have become known to many Aggies through a June, 1975 cover article in the Texas Aggie (Association of Former Students magazine) and the reprinting of the article in the November, 1975 Centennial Issue of the magazine.

Bradford is continuing his search for information, but is also seeking objects including 1920s embroidered branch collar patches; 1929-33 cordovan leather side-lace leggings; coversalls with the red emblem on the back from the 1920-47 period; 1933-47 blue-labeled ROTC blouses; and other blouses, jackets, insignia, shields and tons.

Bradford began the project prior to graduation. He explains the book was "obviously spawned by membership in the Corps and Aggie Band."

"But my interest is also personal, as my present position at the National Park Service calls for considerable research in historical uniforms," he adds.

ISOS are now in Russia

Dr. Worth D. Nowlin, Jr. is representing Texas A&M University at the ISOS POLEX-South workshop in Leningrad, USSR, which began Saturday.

tion of chemical parameters in the vicinity of the current moorings and the large-scale structure of the Polar Front and to the east of the current moorings.

Dr. Nowlin will present the preliminary results of FDRAKE (First Dynamic Response and Kinematic Experiment) in which he participated as chief scientist.

The second part of this first major International Southern Ocean Studies (ISOS) was carried out during early 1976 in the Drake Passage-Scotia Sea region near Antarctica.

There were five specific objectives of the field work. They were to retrieve the long-term current meter and pressure gauge array deployed during the 1975 field program and deploy a new array to be retrieved during 1977.

The expedition also surveyed the density structure and the distribu-

Finally, they studied the scale property and velocity directions immediately within the Frontal Zone.

In addition to the meeting in Leningrad, an A&M group led by Dr. Nowlin will make a presentation to the Scientific Council Meeting, National Center for Atmospheric Research in Boulder, Colo., 23-27.

AGGIELAND REFUND POLICY
Yearbook fees are refundable in full during the semester in which payment is made. Thereafter no refunds will be made on cancelled orders. Yearbooks must be picked up during the academic year in which they are published.

"Students who will not be on campus when the yearbooks are published, usually by September 1, must pay a mailing and handling fee. Yearbooks will not be held, nor will they be mailed without the necessary fees having been paid.

"Refunds will not be made on books not picked up within one semester of the publication date (December 17, 1976 for the 1976 Aggieland)."

This policy takes effect with the delivery of the 1976 edition of the Aggieland.
