THE BATTALION

Baseball's best moments are better on radio

A large portion of the male population, and a growing number of women, in the United States see summer as one thing: baseball. The boys of summer begin their long journey through the season about the same time geese begin their trek North and this half of the world turns green again. Their season ends with the return of the fowl and the turning of the leaves in autumn.

With all the colors that go along with spring and summer, it follows that baseball is visually oriented. Uniforms are colorful and stylish, physical talent is on display for all to admire and most stadiums are built to please the eye with lush grass and grand architecture.

But one of the greatest traditions of baseball can't be seen or touched. It travels invisibly and it can't be smelled like the ever popular ballpark hot dog. Of all the traditions surrounding America's pastime, I get the most joy out of listening to a game on the radio.

Seeing a big league game at the park is one of the most enjoyable experiences that a baseball enthusiast could ask for. But there is something about listening to a Rangers game on a Saturday afternoon while my father and I are outside stretching fence that can't be matched. Listening to Nolan

A&M spikers face Lamar after taking second place in Fresno tournament

By Jesus Ortiz
THE BATTALION

After capturing second place in the Dan Gamel Invitational in Fresno, Calif., the Lady Aggie volleyball team will head to Beaumont tonight to take on the Lamar Cardinals.

Although the Lady Aggies said the Lamar team will be the underdogs, they, and their fans, are expected to come out fired up.

"We expect a packed house because everyone wants to beat A&M," sophomore setter Suzy Wente said.

Head coach Laurie Corbelli agreed, but said she sees the match-up in a different perspective.

"They have nothing to lose," she said. "But we will be fired up, as well."

The Aggies got their season off to a rough start when they lost their initial game of the invitational to San Jose State in five sets.

But unlike last year, the Aggies turned the tables and won three straight games to capture the second-place trophy.

"We took that game and we learned from it," Senior outside hitter Sheila Morgan said. "In years past we probably would have curled up."

Morgan was one of the keys to the Lady Aggies' determination and perseverance.

In the second game of the tournament she set a career high of nine kills out of 14 attempts. Most of those kills came off of sets by Wente.

"All I had to do was get it up there, and she hit it," Wente said. "She is pretty much unstoppable. She is hitting awesome."

Corbelli said she thought Morgan was the most powerful hitter in the tournament.

"She is very hard to stop," she said.

Morgan continued to dominate with a career mark of 27 kills as the team went on to beat Cal Poly San Luis Obispo in the following match.

Wente also joined the record books at the expense of Cal Poly. Her 63 assists were the ninth highest game assist total in A&M history.

"She's like the quarterback," Morgan said of her setter. "She just amazes me. She's just really good."

Corbelli was also pleased with the performance of her sophomore from San Antonio.

"Suzy Wente is a great competitor with great mental stamina who can carry out the game plan to a tee," Corbelli said.

Morgan and Wente along with the rest of the Lady Aggies finished the tournament with a win over host Fresno State in four games.

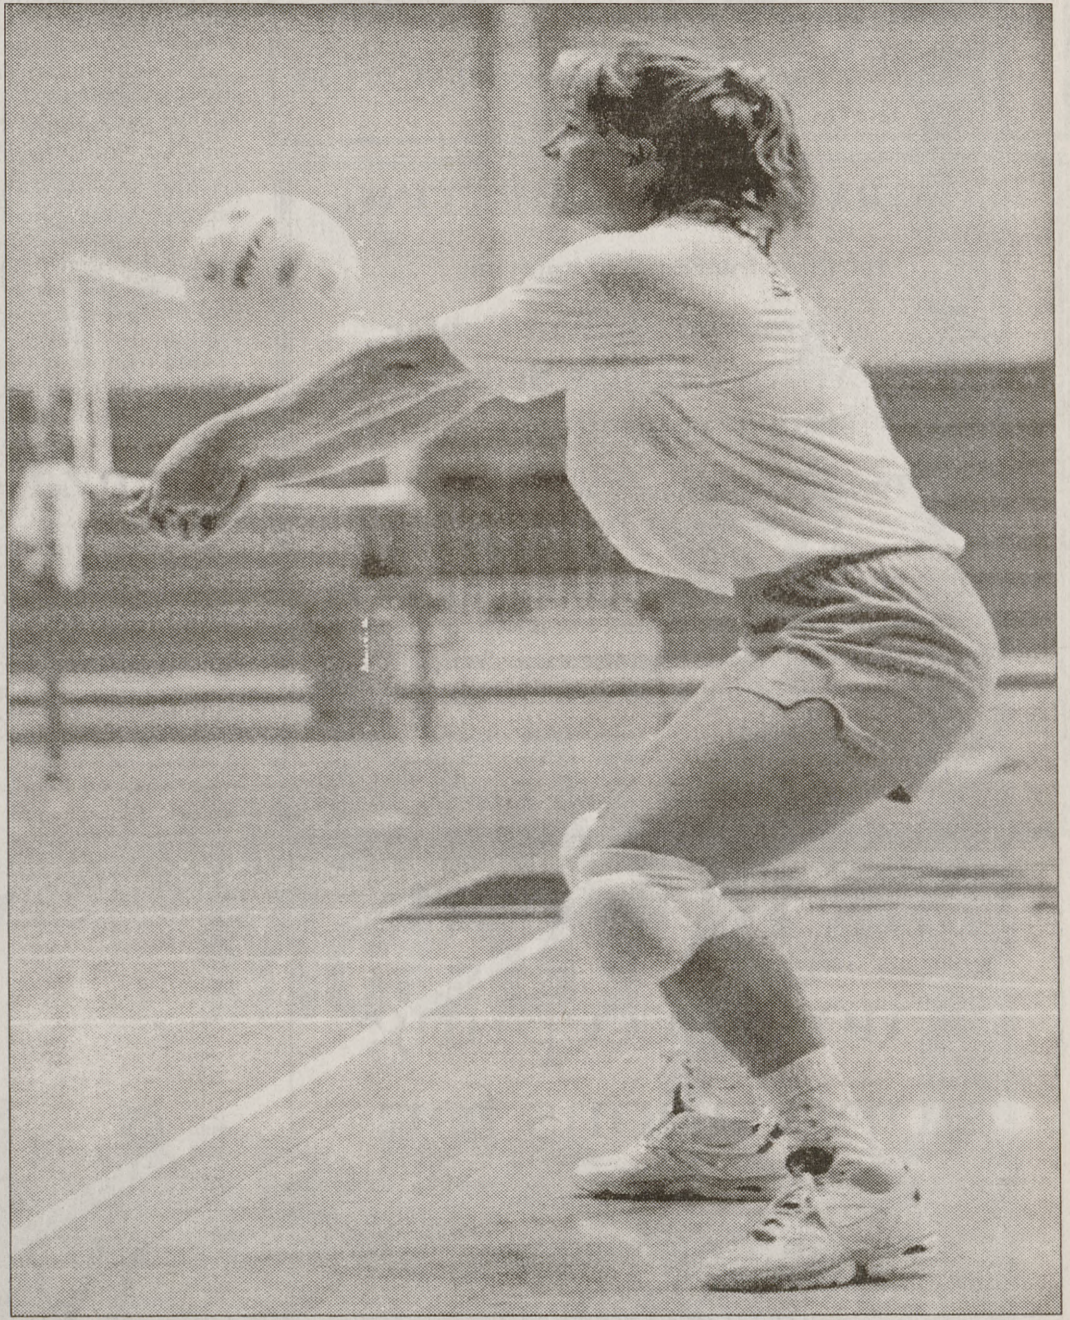

Wente, who broke her career high with 4 kills against Fresno State and 98 assists in the entire tournament, was chosen for the all-tournament team.

Morgan led the team in kills in all four games and had career marks with 13 digs against San Jose and four solo blocks against Cal State Fullerton.

With 76 kills, Morgan had the second highest for the tournament and was honored on the all-tournament squad.

Corbelli said she was especially pleased with the Lady Aggies' confidence.

"The most significant thing was the players confidence in their team," she said. "They knew they could come back. They realize they can make things happen, instead of things happening to them."
