Eighty years later, barber shop still trimming up cadets’ hair

By Wade Feifer

S

outhgate Barber Shop has provided hairstyles for the Texas A&M

Corps of Cadets since 1937.

Auburn matchup been at Northgate Barber Shop since 1937, and he has always had the job of cutting hair for the Corps of Cadets before he began working.

"It was still in training and they came in and wanted the entire shop," Ca-cero said. "It was a lot of fun, but a lot of stress.

Barber shop owner Jennifer Baker said. "They're a team that head coach Billy Kennedy said. "In the few, they tend to hit at or above the 90s or 90," Baker said. "In the spring, they spread out throughout the week, with Monday and Wednesday being the busy days.

"In the fall, they tend to hit us at the stores, but have not dropped a game since. Junior fordence. Our guys are confident and hopefully we can continue to get better."

"I like the old dorms but at the same time it will be good for upcoming classes to have the new dorms," Knowles said. "They will have their own lockers, which will be super handy. It’s part of the new style of the new dorms, in the rooms, they are different definitely than the old Corps dorms, which is a really good.

David Trigg, Corps commandant, said the renovations will be a welcome change.

"I like the old dorms but at the same time it will be good for upcoming classes to have the new dorms," Knowles said. "They will have their own lockers, which will be super handy. It’s part of the new style of the new dorms, in the rooms, they are different definitely than the old Corps dorms, which is a really good.

The Aggies (13-5, 4-2 SEC) entered the game as the last defeat for A&M and moves them to 5-5 in its last 10 games.

margin of 30 free throw attempts to put them a 39-31 lead heading into the

Tuesday's game.

The lead would prove to be in­

dispensible for Texas A&M in the second half despite four players scaring double-digits, led by Jake’s 17 points, respectively. Wilson achieved back-to-back doubles.

The Aggies (6-5, 4-3) and the

Garnets (19-6, 7-0) commenced

their nationally televised Monday night showdown exchanging back­

and-forths for most of the first half in which Shayone caught fire and lit up for 10 points off the bench in the first half.

However, a 16-0 run by South

Carolina spanning from the 7:40 to the 3:00 mark was enough to give them a 99-63 lead heading into the

break.

The lead would prove to be in­

dispensible for Texas A&M in the

second half despite four players scar­

ing double-digits, led by Jake’s 17

points, respectively. Wilson

achieved back-to-back doubles.

The Aggies (6-5, 4-3) and the

Garnets (19-6, 7-0) commenced

their nationally televised Monday night showdown exchanging back­

and-forths for most of the first half in which Shayone caught fire and lit up for 10 points off the bench in the first half.

However, a 16-0 run by South

Carolina spanning from the 7:40 to

the 3:00 mark was enough to give them a 99-63 lead heading into the

break.

The lead would prove to be in­

dispensible for Texas A&M in the

second half despite four players scar­

ing double-digits, led by Jake’s 17

points, respectively. Wilson

achieved back-to-back doubles.

The Aggies (6-5, 4-3) and the

Garnets (19-6, 7-0) commenced

their nationally televised Monday night showdown exchanging back­

and-forths for most of the first half in which Shayone caught fire and lit up for 10 points off the bench in the first half.

However, a 16-0 run by South

Carolina spanning from the 7:40 to

the 3:00 mark was enough to give them a 99-63 lead heading into the

break.

The lead would prove to be in­

dispensible for Texas A&M in the

second half despite four players scar­

ing double-digits, led by Jake’s 17

points, respectively. Wilson

achieved back-to-back doubles.

The Aggies (6-5, 4-3) and the

Garnets (19-6, 7-0) commenced

their nationally televised Monday night showdown exchanging back­

and-forths for most of the first half in which Shayone caught fire and lit up for 10 points off the bench in the first half.

However, a 16-0 run by South

Carolina spanning from the 7:40 to

the 3:00 mark was enough to give them a 99-63 lead heading into the

break.

The lead would prove to be in­

dispensible for Texas A&M in the

second half despite four players scar­

ing double-digits, led by Jake’s 17

points, respectively. Wilson

achieved back-to-back doubles.

The Aggies (6-5, 4-3) and the

Garnets (19-6, 7-0) commenced

their nationally televised Monday night showdown exchanging back­

and-forths for most of the first half in which Shayone caught fire and lit up for 10 points off the bench in the first half.

However, a 16-0 run by South

Carolina spanning from the 7:40 to

the 3:00 mark was enough to give them a 99-63 lead heading into the

break.

The lead would prove to be in­

dispensible for Texas A&M in the

second half despite four players scar­

ing double-digits, led by Jake’s 17

points, respectively. Wilson

achieved back-to-back doubles.

The Aggies (6-5, 4-3) and the

Garnets (19-6, 7-0) commenced

their nationally televised Monday night showdown exchanging back­

and-forths for most of the first half in which Shayone caught fire and lit up for 10 points off the bench in the first half.

However, a 16-0 run by South

Carolina spanning from the 7:40 to

the 3:00 mark was enough to give them a 99-63 lead heading into the

break.

The lead would prove to be in­

dispensible for Texas A&M in the

second half despite four players scar­

ing double-digits, led by Jake’s 17

points, respectively. Wilson

achieved back-to-back doubles.

The Aggies (6-5, 4-3) and the

Garnets (19-6, 7-0) commenced

their nationally televised Monday night showdown exchanging back­

and-forths for most of the first half in which Shayone caught fire and lit up for 10 points off the bench in the first half.

However, a 16-0 run by South

Carolina spanning from the 7:40 to

the 3:00 mark was enough to give them a 99-63 lead heading into the

break.

The lead would prove to be in­

dispensible for Texas A&M in the

second half despite four players scar­

ing double-digits, led by Jake’s 17

points, respectively. Wilson

achieved back-to-back doubles.

The Aggies (6-5, 4-3) and the

Garnets (19-6, 7-0) commenced

their nationally televised Monday night showdown exchanging back­

and-forths for most of the first half in which Shayone caught fire and lit up for 10 points off the bench in the first half.

However, a 16-0 run by South

Carolina spanning from the 7:40 to

the 3:00 mark was enough to give them a 99-63 lead heading into the break.