A waste converted into money by collecting and marketing the old magazines and catalogues from the halls, departments, and College residences. A collector will collect this class of paper from the halls about every ten days, and if each cadet will save his old magazines and any periodical printed on glazed paper, until he comes around, the favor will be greatly appreciated, and the wasteful custom of burning this valuable class of paper converted into money.

J. C. (Railhead) Rogers and Sam Farrell.

There will be no Mass Sunday, as announced in the College Calendar. Mass is held every Sunday, except the fourth, in Room 401 Main Building.
