

Spalding's

$

Basketball Goods

Complete Line
Now In Stock.

$

Men's Bathing Suits

New Shipment
Just Arrived.

$

A. M. Waldrop & Company.

Longhorn Steer Branded 13-0

The following clipping from the Houston Post should be of interest to all Farmer supporters:

Austin, Texas, Feb. 12. The longhorn steer which was presented to the students of the University of Texas by the Alumni Ex-Students' association last November has been branded, but the brand is not the one the varsity students had intended.

They had taken the steer to a local stock yard, where, Monday, the brand, "21 to 7," the score by which the Texas Longhorns defeated the A. and M. football team last Thanksgiving, was to have been put on the animal. But during the night some person or persons unknown to the varsity boys visited the stock yards and branded "13 to 0" on the steer. As 13 to 0 was the score by which A. and M. defeated the University two years ago, it is surmised that the branding was done by admirers or sympathizers of A. and M. As a result the Longhorns are up in arms, but they admit that a good joke has been played.

Lecture to E. E. Students.

Mr. H. M. Blebel, from the Westinghouse Electric Co. at East Pittsburg, Pa., will talk on "Opportunities With The Westinghouse E. & M. Co." in Room 301 E. E. Building at 4:00 p. m. today. He will speak to the A. I. E. E. at 7:30 p. m. Thursday on "Some of My Experiences As a Designer of Power Apparatus".

All engineering students should find these talks interesting. All are invited to attend.

F. C. BOLTON.

Gross Ignorance in College.

Had it ever occurred to you that dense ignorance exists right here in the A. and M. College? The student body as a whole is deplorably lacking in knowledge of current events. Only about one out of four cadets has access to a daily paper, when, if there was one daily to every room, the cost per man would be less than ten cents a week. Subscribe now, boys, and keep up with the affairs of the world.

MOORE & HUBBARD,
adv. Cadet News Dealers.