

Ask Sloss if he knows the difference between a Canary bird and a horse.

Sherer—I shot a goose under the arm with a Winchester.

Whisenant is Dr. Fronces' pretty boy.

Louwein (at the entertainment).—If I had the money she shouldn't play that cornet 5 minutes longer.

Weston (to Command't).—I threw four eggs, and one missed the door once; so you ought to take off one extra.

Misses Kelly, of Brownsville, were visitors on the Campus during the month.

They say that Saunders W. K. got a key knocked off of his nose on the night of the concert, the 27th of October.

For pointers on kissing, apply to Riley, the blood.

For the benefit of the Houston football team there was given a little dance, and everyone reports a swell time.

Ask Mac Wren what makes Abrahams cry.

Prof. Burgoon says he is in the swim now as he has a nice horse and buggy.

It seems that Sloss and Prof. Tilson are rivals.

If you doubt Capt. Wheeler's ability as a barber just notice Soloman Winter's hair.

Monroe, Sannders and Riley constitute the T. C. B., or "Three College Bloods," this year.

Prof. Philpott says he must learn to dance.

Eichblatt wants to know the difference between on right into line and right on into line.

Ask Monroe if he is still studying.