

EDITORIAL.

With this issue the Journal is under control of a corps of editors who will soon be relieved by those whom we hope will do better than we have done. However, we feel quite grateful for the assistance received from those who were able and willing to give it.

* * *

The school house for the campus children has been moved from its former place to a place near a grove of trees south of the chapel and the children seem to be well pleased with the change.

* * *

During the month Dr. Halsted, of the State University, who has recently returned from a visit to Japan, deliv-