

STUDENTS' CO-OPERATIVE
School of Telegraphy and Typewriting.

DAY AND NIGHT CLASSES FOR BEGINNERS AND THOSE WHO WISH TO COMPLETE A COURSE

Commercial College, Cor. Main and Capitol Sts. - HOUSTON, TEXAS.

S. JOHNSTONE, INSTRUCTOR AND MANAGER.

Do you wish to learn a profession which can be easily acquired and at a minimum cost? If so, join the Student's Co-Operative School of Telegraphy and Typewriting. The knowledge of Telegraphy might serve you at some unexpected time in a most invaluable way. It might enable you to obtain a remunerative position. It might be the means of enabling you to support yourself and those dependent upon you. Telegraphy has been the stepping stone by which many to-day occupy prominent positions in railway and commercial circles. It is therefore well worth any young man's or young lady's time and effort to acquire the knowledge of this remunerative profession and be prepared for any emergency that may arise. Those who wish to follow the business exclusively may rest assured that when they have mastered the knowledge of operating the Morse System of Telegraphy as it is used to-day there will be a demand for their services at all times.

The Students' Co-operative classes are so conducted as to enable anyone to learn at a minimum expense. In some instances students have obtained employment in hotels to defray their living expenses during the course.

The day is not far distant when the U. S. Government will adopt the telegraph for transmitting mail, which would create an additional demand to the already increasing field of telegraphy.
