

Saunders K. says he will play a half note on the second foot ball team next year.

Beal (meeting ladies on the campus)—Let me go first, I am the best looking.

Beal wants to know whether they initiate a fellow when he joins the society.

Weston says it is tough on soles. What? Walking extras?

Reardon—Say, Tom, please tell me wether I look like a Jew.

On train. You pretty thing, Reardon.

Mr. J. C. White, city assessor and collector of Houston, was up to visit his son, Corporal White.

Riley, the mocking bird.

Ask Monroe if he went to the egg festival?

It is with regret that the corps acknowledges the resignation of Cadet Corporal John Shea Jr., of Belton, Texas. John was one of the most popular students of his class and stood high in the estimation of his fellow school-mates. We wish him success in his future life.

Why do bankers and merchants look upon Hill's Business College with more favor than they do other schools? Because it is thorough, practical and up to date in all of its methods of teaching.

Dwyer received an invitation to his girl's wedding Christmas. Martin is expecting one soon.

Mr. Lee Donalson visited his brother and friends here at the college during the holidays.