

among the ex-cadets of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, to cultivate in each of its members an interest in the welfare of others, to foster and maintain an interest in the success of the said college and to use all honorable means to assist in placing the said college among the foremost institutions of learning in the country.

Art. 3. The Fraternity may also construct on the college campus a suitable building for the accommodation of its members, for holding its meetings and for such other purposes as the Fraternity may wish.

SECTION II.

Article 1. Any person who attended, as a student, the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas for one term or more, left in good standing and has since conducted himself in an upright and honorable manner shall, after one year's absence from the college, be eligible for membership.

Art. 2. The president of the college shall be, ex-officio, a member of the Fraternity, and entitled to all privileges thereof.

Art. 3. Any ex-cadet desiring to become a member shall fill out and sign a blank application for membership and send the same to the adjutant. Such application shall be submitted for action to the Campus Council, hereinafter provided for. It shall be endorsed by two members in good standing. All members of the Campus Council must vote on each application. If a majority shall be in favor, the applicant shall be duly elected, if against the application it shall stand in suspense until the next annual meeting of the Fraternity, when it shall be presented for action.
