

chapter of the Fraternity. Such chapters will be designated by numbers in order of their organization, and by such names as their members may select.

When three or more members desire to form a chapter they shall make application to the commander, setting forth their desire and the names and numbers of the members. The commander will then, either in person or by representative, call a meeting and organize and instruct such chapter. The members shall then elect the following officers: President, vice president, secretary and treasurer.

They shall adopt such by-laws for their government as they may desire. These chapters shall be social organizations and may adopt such plan as may deem best for the pleasure of their members and the advancement of this Fraternity. They may confer the first degree upon such ex-cadets as have been duly admitted by the Campus Council, but shall not be authorized to admit members to the Fraternity, and shall only receive as members such ex-cadets as have been duly admitted when advised by the adjutant.

Art. 2. Local chapters may levy and collect such assessments for their own expenses as they may desire, but dues to the Fraternity shall be paid direct to the quartermaster as hereinbefore provided.

The secretary of each local chapter shall submit a report to the adjutant on the 15th of May, each year, giving roster of its members and a brief account of the transactions for the year previous. A member of the Frater-
