F. MARION LAW, Editor, Bryan, Texas.

Mr. A. Semones Adams, '95, is a civil engineer in the employ of the Southern Pacific Company. His headquarters are Houston. It is rumored that he is soon to join the ranks of the benedicts.

Captain Fowler's march after General Alejandrino's brigade, with one company of the Twenty-third regiment, was one of the bravest incidents of the war. The company left Dagupan alone under orders to locate the enemy. Captain Fowler had been warned by the natives that he and his men would be exterminated. The guides deserted them before Mangatarom (or Mangalaren) was reached. All of Alejandrino's artillery was focussed upon the main street along which they advanced. The guns were manned by Spaniards, who said afterward that they had fired over the heads of the Americans, as they desired that the latter should win, hoping thus to gain their freedom. In the terrified temper of the insurgents, who run at the sight of an American, a single company might go anywhere in the north or northwest, according to Captain Fowler.

The above notice, copied from the Galveston News of Dec. 1, speaks for itself. It refers to Reese Fowler, B. C. E., Class '94.

Geo. McCormick, class '91, was married to Miss Hill, a lovely young lady of Weimar, on Dec. 6. The Battalion extends hearty congratulations.

A. P. Duggan '95, after graduating in law at the University of Texas, is practicing his profession in Galveston.

Dr. A. J. Kyle '89, of Houston, came up on Thanksgiving with a party of Houstonians to enjoy the hop and football game.

Teacher:—"How do you pronounce Cæsar in English and Latin?"

Sophomore:—"Sieze 'er and kiss 'er."—Ex.

Boy (reading):—"Father, how do yez pronounce I-l-o-i-l-o?"

Father:—"Pronounce it? Did yez niver hear a turkey gobble?"

Judge:—"Are you the defendant in this case?"

Negro:—"No, sah, I has a lawyer hired to do de defendin'; I's de man dat dun stole de chickens."
