 Learn to love yoh neighbor;
 Civilize 'im right;
 Make 'im learn 'is lessons
 Wid a chunk o' dynamite.
 Chase 'im wid yoh rifles.
 Ain't no time to lose.
 Make 'im git a hair-cut
 An' wear patent leather shoes.

Learn to love yoh neighbor.
 Git 'im on de run.
 Teach 'im how to cipher
 At de muzzle of a gun.
 Gettin' education
 Is somethin' mighty tough
 An' 'Lesson I' is findin' out
 When you has had enough.

The Austin Society.

THE AUSTIN SOCIETY has greatly improved since Christmas. In fact, I believe it is better now than it has been either this session or the preceding one.

At the close of the winter term's work the society elected the following officers for the spring term: To be President, Winkler; Vice-President, Walden, Rec. Sec., Carpenter, M.; Cor. Sec., Gleason; Treasurer Bryan W. I.; Critic, Carter; Sergt. at Arms, Taylor, L.

We firmly believe that under the able management of President Winkler the society work will be pushed rapidly onward and upward. And with Sec. Carpenter as Chairman of the Programme Committee that the society will not be in need of programmes.

I wish to request every member to take the responsibility upon themselves to push forward the interest of society work and not leave the president to bear the whole burden. The necessity for society work is plainly seen and acknowledged by those graduates that failed to take part in society work.

What is the good of an education when we are not able to impart it to others?

What is the benefit of a good opinion when it cannot be expressed?
