

Gustave Herman Pope is now the victim of a broken heart, as the College authorities have restricted his haunts to the campus till commencement. We understand the object that troubles him lives in Bryan.

“Cabballs” Lillard, at the instrument in C. E. practice: “Get your feet out of the way, Japhet. Don’t you know I can’t see that rod with this old instrument, and you in my way?”

Jerome (Napoleon Bonypart) Cochran, a handsome young member of class ’04, will probably hold a rank in the battalion next year. Cheer up, Molley.

We are glad to announce that the “twins,” Misses Mamie and Sophie Hutson, were elected honorary members of the Alumni association.

Corporal Evans to “Teddy,” while latter was taking a shower bath—Don’t get under that shower kid; it will give you the “colramorbus.”

Parson Gooch says he don’t know whether to make up with his Bryan girl or not. He is inclined to, but she gives him a cold shoulder.

Ex-Sergeant Stinson is now acting corporal in the ranks of company “D.” Wonder if the privates are glad?

Deacon Fountain Jr. says a fellow can’t put on much when he is broke. We expect the deacon is right.

Peck (after falling down Pfeuffer Hall steps)—“I am going to sue the College for a scholarship.”

Why did “Teddy” Maedgen want to get a divorce from his old lady, “Mike” Meek?

The Puzzle of South End.—How did Max Mayer get a corporalship?

Ask “Twin S.” how proud she is of company “C.”

John Baum of back-stop fame.

John Baum, the nervous man.
