

Professor Darter is now fully prepared to give lessons in love making, palmistry, and stamp flirtation. In fact all the dark arts are brought to light by the Professor's teaching. Night classes are now being organized.

Comer does not understand why all the girls admire him. "Neither do we."

W. E. Orr is not in the habit of taking walks after taps to the "big gate" by the way of the Mess Hall, but he does so sometimes, especially when nobody is going to town.

Hauck proves by example that dreams don't come true. Because he says: "Last night I dreamed I was awake, but when I awoke, I found I was asleep."

Fish—"Which one of the Cobolini boys plays the symbols in the band?"

HOPE: "Kinky" Lee says he is getting more like white folks every day.