

The flim flam flopped from the felamaloo,
The polywagg pinkled so pale,
The pipkin piped a petulant poo,
To the garrulous garp of the gale.

Many exchanges have been received this month. While some of these papers lack interest and neatness, the majority deserve praise and special notice. The Battalion is always willing to exchange with all the schools, for it gives much pleasure to know what is going on at the different colleges.

In looking over our exchanges we find the Southwestern University Magazine among the best. This paper seldom makes a poor appearance.

---

The October issue of the Baylor Literary makes a much better appearance than the September number. The greatest change to be noticed is that the advertisements have been left out of the reading matter.
