

Oldfield college campus this notice was posted:

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Be it hereby known that on next Monday evening, at 4 o'clock, a Freshman of Class '05 will walk past block No. 12, Market St., carrying a cane.

Notice is hereby served that any Sophomore who opposes this Freshman in walking past the said named block will wish he hadn't.

As Cantel feared this notice was regarded as somewhat ironical. "It's some Junior's sell," one Senior declared.

There was a small crowd of Sophomores gathered around the notice posted on the bulletin board in the main building.

"I'll bet the Freshy who put these notices up will wish he hadn't before next Monday evening at 4 o'clock," remarked one of the crowd.

"I'll bet a twenty dollar bill that there isn't a Freshy in sight of block No. 12 by next Monday evening at 4 o'clock," said another Sophomore.

"I call that bet," said George Vannel, who had just come up.

"I won't bet that way, because some of the Freshies live right around there, but Vannel, I'll bet you two to one that no Freshy ever carries a cane past block No. 12 next Monday."

"All right, here's ten dollars on that bet. Benton here,
