Sophomores can't learn German. Well, they're that much better than the juniors, who "won't."

"Quality Row" is in mourning over the defeat of Dr. Ball in a game of chess at the hands of Mr. Chas. S. Potts.

Parks & Waldrop have just received a new supply of Drill shirts, campaign hats and regulation belts for the spring term. 18

Dr. and Mrs. Houston and Prof. Asbury and several of the students went down to Houston to attend an opera last week.

Who is to represent the A. and M. College in the "Oratorical Contest" to be held in Fort Worth April 21st? Get busy. Don't let's be left out. Some of you silver-tongued orators go into the contest and pull down the bird.

Prof. Johnston will lecture Friday and Saturday before the Business Men's League of Dallas on corn culture and seed selection.

When you come to town don't miss seeing Parks & Waldrop's big show window display of the latest spring styles in men's hats and shoes. 18

A Chess club has been organized among the members of the faculty with Prof. Puryear as president. The club meets every two weeks.

What has become of the athletic field? We thought by now that the fence would be finished and game pulled off with 'Varsity by this time.

Uncle Pike, while eating dry toast: "I wish they would give us some bread, for a fellow has to have teeth like an alligator to eat this toast."

Have you seen those swell new Walkover shoes for spring at Parks & Waldrop's? If you need a new pair of shoes be sure and see them before you buy. 18

Kirkpatrick says he can work calculus easy enough with the exception of differentiating. He thinks that the only thing about it that is hard.

Parks & Waldrop still have on hand a full range of sizes in A. & M. uniform caps. If you want one don't wait, as there are only a few left, and they will soon be gone. 18

Another inquiry has been made for the Coker. Where is he? they all ask. Is the cold weather keeping him in doors so close that he cannot get out to see who is coking?

Sergeant Post has been sick for the past two weeks, and also Capt. Atkins of the janitor force is very sick, but one of the other janitors says that "Capt. Atkins ain't got the same disease of Sergeant Post."

Those swell new patent vic low quarters with pointed toes at $4 that Parks & Waldrop are showing are the handsomest shoes you ever saw. They also have the same style in high cuts. 18

Parks & Waldrop have just received a large line of Tennis shoes in white duck with black soles at 75c. White duck with heavy, red rubber soles at $1.25, either high or low cut. 18

Mr. Lane is getting rather poetic. The following was found on his table: "If I but knew your love was true, And time could never change your love."

Of course the poetry may not be good, but the thought is grand.

President Houston and Prof. Carson went to Austin Sunday night. Prof. Carson is a member of the legislative committee appointed by the Farmers' Congress to look after legislation pertaining to educational matters, while Dr. Hamilton is looking after the interests of the A. & M.

Professor Harrington reports seeing the following alumni while on his tour in the southern part of the state last week: Mr. W. T. Merriwether of '91, Mr. A. W. Amthor '95, Mr. J. B. Steins '03, and Mr. Putegnatt and Dr. Reeves, two former A. & M. students.

Burt Norwood has offered a medal to the best speaker in the college. This should be very much appreciated by the boys. He is to be commended for his liberality and interest in the speaking contests held here at A. and M. This is the best way to get good results from public speaking. When a man spends time enough on a piece to be willing to put it before an audience at A. and M. he has accomplished something. Remember the giver.

Mrs. Neibert reports a most delightful afternoon with Mrs. Rivers Allen on Friday last who was entertaining the Bryan ladies in honor of her sister, Mrs. Chas. Smith. The gloom of the outside was immediately dispelled on entering the house, where the soft, rosy glow from myriads of pink tapers flooded the place, the color scheme of pink with hearts, hearts everywhere. Punch was served in the hall, followed by the daintiest refreshments, and Forty-two the game.

A few fish held a meeting Tuesday night and organized a Tennis club, to be known as "The Fish Tennis Club." The club consists of four members, and as all of them are experienced tennis players many exciting contests are looked forward to. They consider themselves champions of the campus in both singles and doubles until they are shown otherwise. The members are: George Bittle, president; Oscar Seward, treasurer; Jim Neibert, business manager; Tom Adams, secretary.

It has now been definitely determined by the authorities of the experiment station to locate a sub-station at Chillicothe, in the Panhandle, for the purpose of testing grain and forage crops. The United States Department of Agriculture will co-operate in the enterprise and furnish a considerable portion of the necessary funds. Mr. A. B. Conner of last year's agricultural class will have charge of the experiments. Profs. Craig and Johnston will leave the latter part of the week for Chillicothe to complete arrangements for beginning the work.

Last Friday night our commandant requested the freshmen class to meet him in the guard room, and the sophomore and junior classes in his office. The object of this meeting was to dissuade everyone from taking part in the (un)necessary class rush. We agree with Capt. Sargent about the folly of such a thing, and it is as he says: "People away from here do not understand these things, and of course cannot look upon them in their true light." Aside from the above fact, real injury is very likely to be done, and in a few minutes enemies may be made that will last for years. One's clothes are torn to shreds and absolutely no good is accomplished. Afterwards, the outside world hears an exaggerated report which goes to make a worse name for our College than she now has.

COMMENCEMENT HOP—OFFICERS ELECTED.

A meeting of corps was held in the assembly hall last Friday night to elect officers for the commencement hop. The following cadets were elected to manage the welcomed occasion which always furnishes mirth and merriment, and cements within the cadet many pleasant remembrances of his college days:

G. C. Street, president; W. A. Price, chairman of arrangement committee; H. E. Hanna, chairman of invitation committee; O. L. Forsgard, chairman of reception committee; H. B. Farmer, chairman of decoration committee.

It is customary to elect juniors to chairman of floor committee, and finance committee. These places were given to E. M. Burton and G. L. Reese respectively.

The officers are all capable men and we are sure that their efforts will be exerted to the utmost to make the commencement hop of '05 one of delight and happy remembrances to all.

"Too bad, isn't it," a new boy was heard to say. "What's bad, Sbsia's food?" asked the ever present junior "information bureau." "Oh, no, the food is all right and there is always plenty of it, but the cooking is bad, and the row that raw potatoes has raised is simply dreadful. I wish they had not sent that copy of the Battalion home. Why, the folks want me to come home, but I'm not going to go. Do you think I'd miss that cane rush? Well, not for several stomach-aches."

AN EXCITING INCIDENT.

The following somewhat startling incident occurred on the campus last Wednesday, and some of the juniors were alarmed for the welfare of one of their number, but nothing serious resulted.

A small, square piece of paper was handed to this junior and he became somewhat excited. One of the spectators described his actions as follows: "His eyes flashed fire, his face was tinted with the beautiful colors of the rainbow, his hands became icicles, incoherent mutterings dropped from his lips, his blood ran cold, his countenance rose and fell, while his heart stopped with a dull thud." You might think that the janitor then came and swept up the debris, but such was not the case. It was merely Adolphus Hays getting a long-looked-for letter from his girl, after he had almost given up hope.

THE CHOIR.

Prof. Potts is now in charge of the music for our Sunday services.

Mrs. Spence still continues in her place at the piano.

Books with sacred music arranged for male voices have been ordered, and we hope that the interest on the part of those who have been coming to the practices will not lag.

The commandant very graciously excused choir members from first sentinal inspection on Thursdays.
