A. & M. CADETS IN

CARNIVAL PARADE.

One Thousand Students Under Arms and College Officials in King Nottoc's Parade.

Leaving College Station Monday morning, accompanied by the faculty and instructors of the college, the cadet regiment loaded two special trains bound for Houston, to take part in the Carnival parade and to see Old Varsity taken from her feet by the A. & M. football contingent. The A. & M. specials reached Houston nearly two hours before King Nottoc's parade began. This necessitated a nice long wait in the hot sun on warm pavements for the cadets, who wore heavy uniforms. The cadets marched several blocks in the parade. One freshman said: "Gee! we must have gone ten miles before we stopped."

The A. & M. cadet corps now has taken part in three parades on Carnival opening days and are looked upon as a feature of the first day of the Carnival week. The three battalions made a long column of platoons in the parade and the students received many compliments on their appearance.

When the parade was over arms were stacked in the Houston Light Guards' armory. The corps was dismissed and took in the sights of the city.

At 2 p. m. the students gathered in front of the Rice Hotel and marched out to the football field where Varsity lost her last chance at the South-western championship and where A. & M. probably cinched first place in the State Intercollegiate Association.

SOME JOKES.

Dr. Blake—"Where do we find water in a free condition?"

Bright Junior—"In the standpipe."

Waiter (in Dallas restaurant)—"What are your orders?"

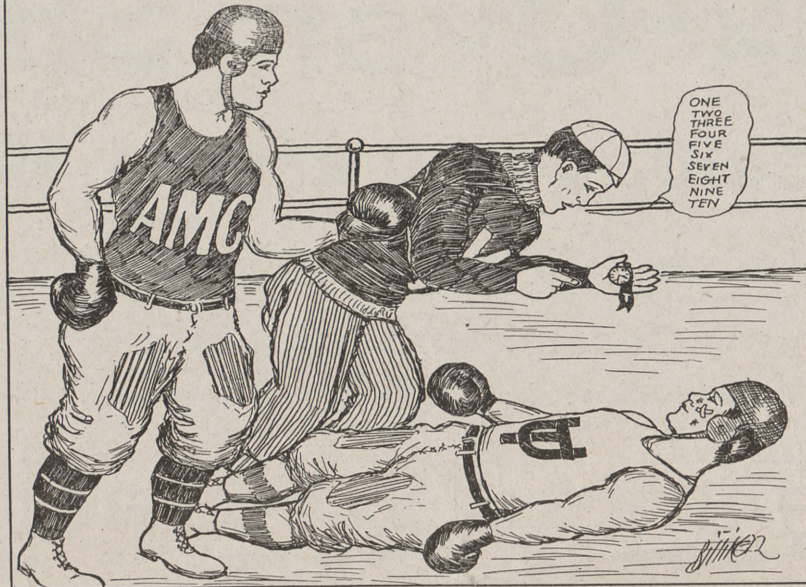

Fish Oliver (F company)—"Which do you want, general or special?"

An English instructor requested a freshman to write an invitation. The freshman, complying with the request, brought up the following:

"Mr. John Jones requests your presence at a surprise party given at his home on November 14, 1910."

The professor gave him an "A."

Varsity Couldn't Come Back.

"VARSITY COULDN'T COME BACK."

A. AND M. STATE CHAMPIONS

Varsity Coaches and Professors Not Strong Enough to Save the Day For Varsity

SCORE: 14 to 8

Bell, White, Ward and Beasley Star for the Red and White

FEATURES OF THE GAME.

The game did not start till 3:45. Both teams were greeted by great ovations on entering the grounds, and again on emerging on the field. Both cheering sections united in making noise before the referee blew his whistle.

Varsity won the toss and chose the west end of the field, gaining the advantage of a light breeze. A. & M. kicked off, DeBona driving the ball far into Varsity's territory, where Massingail received the pigskin. The A. & M. team made its score in a few minutes. Varsity made second down and Kirkpatrick kicked, failing to make a punt as long as he did later in the game. A. & M. worked its way to Varsity's thirty-five yard line, and on third down Ward arched a beautiful drop-kick across Varsity's goal for three points. The University team took a short while to work to A. & M.'s five-yard line and tie the score. Held for downs, Kirkpatrick kicked an easy goal from placement.

In the first quarter neither team did its best work and Varsity was at its worst. The A. & M. team outplayed Varsity as though Varsity was dazed. Ward's brilliant field goal seemed to have taken the Varsity men off their feet. The score stood 9 to 3 in the period, we making a touchdown on a misplay by ex-coach Massingail. Being held by Varsity on the thirty-four yard line A. & M. attempted a forward

Y. M. C. A.

A Very Interesting Meeting Held Sunday Night.

Mr. F. D. Steger held the attention of the Y. M. C. A. members Sunday night with an account of the conditions existing in the slums of Chicago. He told of the protective agencies that have been installed in Chicago to insure the safety of immigrants to this country.

Mr. Steger explained fully how much benefit the slum people derive from public playgrounds, how these grounds have benefited athletics, which in turn lay the foundation for a sound body and a sound mind.

He described the great factor in starting the street urchins in the right path, the juvenile court. He told of the juvenile court judges who give a humane interpretation of the law in order to apply it to little street arabs who have the very worst home influences.

He gave in detail the monumental work the Chicago slum workers are doing to wipe out the evil practices of lower Chicago, and to make a moral and prosperous community.

The address was well directed and met with the sympathy of the audience. Mr. Steger's addresses always command attention and the Y. M. C. A. members are looking forward to another lecture from him soon.

EUREKA GLEE CLUB.

The Eureka Glee Club held the attention of the students and many visitors from Bryan at the chapel Saturday night. The club is composed of four splendid male voices, and rendered a splendid program. The feature of the program was the beautiful chimes. This was the third number of the regular Lyceum course offered by The Long Horn and was well received.

The next number has not been announced.
