Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Moran and Tommy left Tuesday night for Kentucky where they will make an extended visit. They will return after Christmas in time for preparation for the track season.

L. D. Bogan, a member of the present sophomore class, started Saturday night for Saint Louis to take the physical examination for entrance to West Point. He came to A. and M. from the Peacock Military Academy of San Antonio. He was a cadet major there in his senior year. He is a good student and a splendid athlete and doubtless will make good at the army school.

The football players have laid off their armor and are back at the grind, "hepping" to their captain's commands. You can identify them when the captain gives the numbers for the executions of his command, the ex-hero braces himself for the signal and looks around to see who noticed. They long to wear the suits which they played in for the past two months.

In three problems in architectural design submitted to the students of that course at Boston Tech., this year, Mr. "Dickie" Dean, '06, won first mention in two of the problems, and second mention in the third.

Miss Emmie Fountain returned Wednesday from Marlin where she visited friends.

Last Sunday evening Mrs. Giesecke entertained Messrs. Eckhardt, Davis, J. N., Smith, W. A., Elkond, Knolle, W. A., and Knolle, R. E. These gentlemen are sons of Prof. Giesecke's schoolmates.

The other day as Bro. Carver's little boy was running along he stumped his toe and said "darn."

"Broadus," said Bro. Carver, "I'll give you a dime if you'll never say that word again." A few days later Broadus came running in and said, "Papa, I heard Jeff Coleman say o word that's worth half a dollar."

Mr. Kirk—Waiter, has this steak been cooked?

Waiter—Yes; with electricity.

Mr. Kirk—Well, take it back and give it another shock.—Ex.

JUNIOR PINS ARRIVE.

The Junior Class pins are very prominent among their number at this period.

According to the custom set forth by the present Senior Class, the pins are like those of the '10 and '11 classes.

It is the intention of the classes in college now to make this particular design a permanent junior pin.

JUNIOR BANQUET.

To Be Held February 21—Committees Elected.

Realizing the importance of having everything in readiness before February 22, the Junior Class chose the following members to serve on the various committees:

MUSIC.

Chairman, B. J. Mansfield.
Assistants: J. C. Paschall, C. C. Krueger, R. O. Rockwood, and C. H. Griesenbeck.

Permission has been obtained to use the Mess Hall on this occasion and the '12 class will reign supreme from 10:00 o'clock p. m. to 12:00 o'clock.

Programs and menu cards have been ordered but the nature of neither has been made public.

ASSISTANT TO THE ASSISTANT.

Collins, the assistant of Imboden, is to be congratulated upon the manner in which he performed his duties. Next year we hope to see him among the number of old "standbys" who furnish equipment for the red and white supporters.

Will Respect the Law Hereafter.

A deputy sheriff summoned a certain young man of the city last Tuesday night to appear at Anderson the next morning as a special venireman. The young man is reported to have given in his name as Jim Bowen in the hope to outwit the officer. That gentleman was a little too foxy, however, and said nothing to the young fellow about the impersonation, but reported the matter to the district judge. When informed that Jim Bowen is a well known negro about the city the judge very promptly ordered a fine of $100 assessed against the young fellow, which will have a tendency to inculcate respect for the district court and its officers.—Navasota Examiner.
