

1911 FOOTBALL

SCHEDULE ARRANGED.

Moran Will Have Fourteen Veterans Back for 1911.

We will start the football season of 1911-12 with the brightest prospects ever. There will be back on the team fourteen players who made their college letter the past season. Coach Moran has every reason to believe that his team next fall will be a winner.

Daniel C. Imboden, '12, is manager of the team. He has already arranged a very heavy schedule and we will go up against some of the strongest in the South. As far as known the schedule is:

October 6—Southwestern University at College Station.

October 13—Austin College at College Station.

October 21—Alabama Polytechnic of Auburn, Ala., at Dallas.

October 27—Mississippi University at College Station.

November 4—Texas Christian University at College Station.

November 13—University of Texas at Houston.

November 30—Baylor University at College Station.

There will be a big game with some school between the time of the game with the University of Texas and that with Baylor, but the school has not been announced.

Moran's success as a football coach at the college is phenomenal. When he arrived at the college two years ago he found practically no team at all, but lots of material. He began work developing players and such men as Hohn, Barnes, Cretcher, McDowell, Ward, Altgelt, Beasley, Bateman, Whyte, Lambert, Grissom and Bell are fair examples of what he has produced.

The following veteran players will be on hand at Seabrook next fall when Moran calls his men for early practice: Hohn, captain and tackle; Barnes, tackle; Cretcher, guard; Lambert, guard; Schaedel, guard; McDowell, center; Altgelt, end; Grissom, halfback; Whyte, fullback; Bateman, halfback; Beasley, halfback; Bell, halfback; Kerns, quarterback. Other players who were on last year's squad and will report for early practice are Summers, guard; Lown, tackle; Lyons, center; Christen, guard; Lutrick, tackle; Underwood, halfback; Dwyer, quarterback; Abbott, quarterback; Neyland, halfback; Vesmirovsky, fullback; McKee, fullback; Scofield, end; Washington, end; Driess, halfback; Burlison, end; Miller, end.

Besides the squad men Moran has great hopes in Block, fullback; Branson, tackle; Scott, halfback; Lyles, guard; Gee, quarterback; Herrington, guard; Harrison, center; Goodwin, end; Carter, halfback; Ball, end; Sanders, fullback; Lacy, guard; Steller, guard; Rutledge, halfback; Frazier, halfback, and Young, guard. New men yet unknown may come also.

JOKES.

(Here's some more on Capt. Kidd.)
J. W. Kidd—If you have two weights on a pulley, how do you find the acceleration?

E. J. Kennedy—Add 'em.
J. W. Kidd—Where is Eve?
E. J. Kennedy—Damfino!

Prof. Kidd—Mr. Short, you say that when a body is traveling in a circle it has uniform motion?

Mr. Short—Well, I didn't mean to.
Prof. Kidd—You gave me the correct answer.

Mr. Short—Well, I didn't mean to.

F. L. Johnson—Capt. Kidd, why do brown spots come on the body of a person killed by an electric charge?

Prof. Kidd—Er-r-r, why, I don't exactly know.

"Dutch" Hohn—Why, that is simple enough. The electric charge breaks the blood up into its ions, which collect under the skin.

Reporter for Juiner Bat—Dr. Francis, what do you intend doing next summer?

Dr. Francis—Well, well, well! That's an odd question to put to a man. If I knew what I were going to do this afternoon I would be doing well.

Captain Ray (at company inspection)—What is that part of your gun?
Fish (ambitious for corporalship)—That, sir, is the er—er safety valve.

Dr. Marsteller—Mr. Fuchs, what strength of iodide of mercury would make a good application for a blister to a horse's leg?

Mr. Fuchs—Five per cent strength.
Dr. Marsteller—Mr. Fuchs, that wouldn't blister the skin on my chin.

Mr. Fuchs—Yes, but it would blister a horse's leg.

Prof. Williams—Mr. Routh, what is the botanical name for cotton?

Routh (in a coke)—One and three-fourths.

"Mr. S-o-r-y, pass to the board without your book and put a shunt wound dynamo up there."

Extract from a Junior's daily letter:
"Oh! that I were an angel with wings and that I could fly to you tonight!"

Heard at the Brazos River Store.
John Scarborough—Say, Jack, how are we going to get back across the river past all those "Fish" sentinels?

"Runt" Jackson—Ah, that's easy. Make that negro let us lay in the bottom of his wagon while he drives across.

IMPORTANT!

There will be an athletic rally at the chapel Saturday night. Everyone is expected to join in heartily.

Coming April 22

Lyceum No. 9, Alton Packard, Cartoonist

Rare fun, well done. He peoples the stage with his sketches, he impersonates, he depicts the humorous, the picturesque and the beautiful. He plays upon the piano and sings.

Introduces comedy, also sentiment. He holds the attention closely to the end, then stops.

Assembly Hall

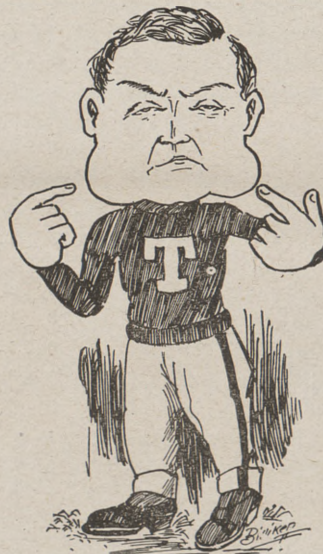

Admission 50c

HE WOULD LIKE A FURLOUGH TO HOUSTON.

The Junior Battalion staff takes pleasure in presenting the president of the class of 1912. We have every reason to feel proud of him, for on all occasions Harris Underwood has worked unceasingly and has spared no pains in behalf of the Junior Class.

T. P. Junkin, president of the Daniel Baker College at Brownwood, who was a member of the faculty of the college as associate professor of mathematics, was a visitor to the campus Saturday. Since he has become president of the Presbyterian school at Brownwood the attendance has increased and the prospects for the institution are better than ever before.

"DUTCH" HOHN HAS CAUGHT IT TOO.
