

LONG HORN ADS.

Following is a list of the firms who have contracted for advertising in the 1913 Long Horn. No matter what your wants are—from a small hot bird to a large cold bottle—they have it. By patronizing these firms, you will be fulfilling an obligation that rests upon the Long Horn's friends and will make the future financing of the book a certainty on account of its value as an advertising medium.

We wish to thank our advertisers for the generous support they are giving us, and at the same time assure them that their help has not been merely a gift to charity. This book, like the other A. and M. publications, will go into hundreds of libraries of affiliated schools, and homes throughout the country, and we feel that this will insure an extensive reading of our advertisements. We have learned through an experience of several years that those firms who advertise in the college publications are the students' best friends, and we bespeak for those business men who are helping to make the Long Horn '13 possible the very best patronage of our readers.

DO UNTO OUR ADVERTISERS AS THEY HAVE DONE UNTO US.
