Baylor only took one little spurt early in the game and gained consistently for a minute or two on a lot of short forward passes, but their spurt was short lived. The Farmers soon had the forward pass tucked under their arms and were scampering down the field for a touchdown.

For Baylor Meagher, Williams, Reager and Captain Cooper did best work. Williams was especially good on punting and his toe kept the score down to what it was. He was also strong on the forward pass. Reager and Captain Cooper did best work on the line.
