Jot it down.

Here's the new method of making memoranda, a pocket case so handy and neat that it is a pleasure to carry it.

A card for every day and extra ones for special purposes. The case is stiff so that one can easily write when holding it in the hand.

You make jottings freely, for you find it convenient to do so, and you don't have any trouble in finding them. They just bob up at the right time.

THE NEW WAY

You have a filing tray with card indexes which make it easy to file your data according to date, subject or alphabetically. It will be at hand when required and MEMINDEX will remind you to refer to it at the right time.

MEMINDEX saves time and temper.

It is a daily reminder, a good one; it is very helpful and an enemy to man's forgettery.

Every man who does things should have one.

On this you record your plans for work and from this you see how to work your plans.

THANKSGIVING DINNER

CORPS ENJOYED EATS SATURDAY.

Most Enjoyable Occasion of Year
When Cadets Sat Down to Heavily Laden Tables.

One of the most delightful dinners that "ever was" was served to the hungry cadets Saturday. Lo! and behold! when the cadets entered the Mess Hall Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock a very beautiful sight greeted their eyes. The walls were covered with pennants, the ceiling was decorated with bunting (red and white); and last, but not least, the tables were literally groaning under the weight of meats, salads, and "cushes." Needless to say they did not "groan" under this delightful burden very long after the cadets were seated. The "groaning" sensation, we think, was transferred to the interior of the cadets aforesaid mentioned. We have not as yet gone to see the "Doc" to inquire how many sour, twisted faces met his gaze at "sick call" Sunday, but we will venture to say there were quite a few. Those that thought it to be a pleasure to "oversatisfy" that lean, twisting, craving that has its origin in the abdominal region, soon found out there was a limit to all capacities, even unto the cadet stomach. To make a long story short but sad, we will say that the cadets "fell to it" like negroes to ribbon cane on circus day.

Now wouldn't this make you hungry
