A. AND M. EXHIBIT SUCCESSFUL.

Made Great Hit at Southeast Texas Fair at Beaumont.

The A. and M. exhibit at the Southeast Texas Fair held at Beaumont was a revelation to many people in the coast country. Little did the people know of the workings of A. and M. Much attention and interest was drawn toward the Textile Department. After a journey through the tent one man was heard to remark: "I did not know that they did any of that kind of work down there. The workmanship is as good as any textile mill can put out." This remark is only a sample of the many made after a journey through the exhibit. One thing that went to make the exhibit a success was the extreme courtesy and attention shown all visitors by Messrs. Rosa and Pearce.

Many questions were asked on the preserves, as to who put them up, do they teach that kind of thing at your school, and how did they do it. Mr. Rosa was kept extremely busy answering all the questions asked him. When asked what he thought of the fair, Mr. Rosa said: "I am highly pleased with the interest shown in our line, and the stock exhibited was the best I have seen in many a day. I saw Professor Templeton scratch his head and think a few minutes over the placing of some of the classes. This was especially so in one class. I don't see, at least I did not know that there were such fine animals in this part of the country."

Mr. Pearce was taken over the town by Mr. Smythe of the asphalt company, and taken out to the works and shown around. Mr. Pearce was high in his praise of the asphalt streets and shell roads.

It is to be deplored that the tent was not large enough to hold the entire exhibit, but what was out made quite a hit and won many new friends for old A. and M. To know us is to like us, and Messrs. Rosa and Pearce were the men to represent us in enterprise.

C. E. SOCIETY MEETS.

Decided to Have Fobs Instead of Pins.

The second meeting of the Civil Engineering Society was held Tuesday night, November 26. The society met at that time instead of the regular time on account of the Thanksgiving hop the following Friday night.

After the meeting had been called to order by the president the minutes of the preceding meeting were read. The question was brought up whether the members of the society wanted pins or fobs. The society decided to have fobs. A motion that the president appoint a committee to select or design several different fobs was made and carried. The president appointed A. F. Sayers as chairman of the committee.

T. R. Spence, chairman of the committee to frame up a constitution for the society, read the constitution that he had prepared, and after a few changes were made it was accepted by the society.

Professor Spence delivered an address to the society on the many different kinds of problems that an engineer may be called on to solve, giving as an example a case from his own experience. His address was enjoyed by everyone present.

The C. E.'s are taking much interest in the society now and the indications are that the society will be a great success this year.
