Locals

Carry your pressing, repairing, altering to Charley Nitch.

Miss Ethel Cavitt of Bryan spent the week-end on the campus as the guest of Mrs. D. W. Spence.

Come and take a look at Charley's line of spring and summer samples for your new suit.

Miss Mary Paula Thompson of Austin, who is a frequent visitor of the college, came over on the special Saturday and spent the day with friends on the campus.

At the campus tailor shop you will find a nice stock of light goods for suits and pants.

The numerous friends of Cadet Dennis are very sorry to hear of the accident that befell ihm on the athletic field, and will be delighted to hear of his quick recovery.

Doing your own pressing and scorching one pair of trousers cost you more than your pressing bill at Charley's would for the whole year.

The students, alumni, faculty, and friends of A. and M. College extend their thanks to the Dixie and Princess Theatres in Bryan for the help given us in our fight against consolidation. The Dixie and Princess Theatres have each donated the proceeds of two days' shows for this prupose. We could show our appreciation in no better way than by attending these theatres when in town.

The cadets will enjoy the specialty by Mrs. Otto Ehlinger of College and Mr. Fairman of Bryan in "The Microbe of Love" at the Colonial Theatre Saturday night. It is a comedy satire of the highest order. Don't miss it.

H. & T. C. RAISING TRACK.

The great depression in the Houston and Texas Central Railroad bed between the college and the big hill a mile and a half toward Bryan is being filled with a steam shovel crew at a rapid rate. The dirt is coming from the big hill along the railroad. The steam shovel used loads a cubic yard of dirt on the flat cars every twenty seconds.

The Houston and Texas Central is one of the best railroads in Texas, and never loses an opportunity of making their system more efficient. It was the first railroad in Texas, being built before the Civil war with wheelbarrows, the timber along the route furnishing the ties and fuel.

The girls are irresistible in their football stunt during the chorus, "And They Say He Went to College, Rah! Rah! Rah!" Saturday night.

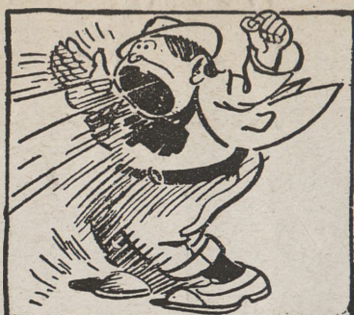

Prof. A. M. Trawick, social secretary of the South, who is well known on the campus since his visit last year, will again come to College for three days, March 28, 29 and 30. An institute program will be set up for the consideration of such topics as "The Aim and Scope of Social Service," "The Objective of Social Service Among Students," "Faculty Co-operation and Field Study," "Co-operation with Churches and Pastor," and "Training for Leadership."

State Secretary L. A. Coulter and Assistant Secretary J. L. Hunter, the Bryan pastors, faculty men and some students will participate in the discussions.

"And They Say He Went to College, Rah! Rah! Rah!" The sweet singer, Mr. Melton, will give this popular song, from Eddy Foy's "Over the River," in "The Microbe of Love" Saturday night.

Commandant (questioning a returned Fish striker who desired to be reinstated)—Are you a member of any club or society?

Fish—No, sir; nothin' except the "Horse Marines."

A. E. EXHIBITION.

The architectural engineers are planning a second exhibition for some time in the near future. The subject for this exhibition is "The Design of a Drinking Fountain" and will undoubtedly be very interesting. The exact date will be given out later and all will be cordially invited to attend.

Tickets for "The Microbe of Love" are on sale at the Cadet Store at College.
