

NEW CORPS OFFICERS

For the benefit of the new men coming to college and as a help to the old students, the Battalion is taking the liberty of printing a list of officers elected at the close of the session of 1913-14. These men have been placed in these positions to push the college activities, and it is very necessary that every man in the school do his best to help these officers make the session of 1914-15 the best year that the Texas A. & M. College has ever seen:

A committee from the two-year class has also been elected, but the names could not be obtained in time for publication.

San Francisco Trip.

A committee from each class was elected to head the trip to San Francisco in 1915, but this committee turned its work over to Ike Ashburn as "head-knocker."

Other Officers.

A number of other officers remain to be elected, which will be announced in due time. A general line of those to be elected are as follows:

1. Officers for all the classes.
2. Thanksgiving Hop officers.
3. Athletic council.

Military Officers.

For a list of military officers the 1914-15 Y. M. C. A. hand book furnishes the complete list.

Y. M. C. A. ADDRESS.

Dr. Bizzell addressed the Y. M. C. A. last Sunday night on the subject, "The Perils of an Empty Life." His talk was short and pointed and had the "punch" to drive home his meaning. He said the danger of college life is not in the busy hours, but in the leisure hours, when college men dispose of time in their own way. The disaster that fell to pleasure-seeking, licentious Rome, as a result of her leisure hours, was used as an illustration. In his preliminary remarks "Prexy" said he was afraid for the time to come when he should be compelled to send his boy and girl away to college. This statement brought very near to us the perils of college life and then when he told of the last day at home when he left the college, a young boy, just starting out, there were response chords struck on the heartstrings of many men.

The attendance at the Y. M. C. A. meetings indicates a great interest in the programs. The song service is good and the fellowship is fine. Cadets who believe they cannot spare the time to attend these meetings are mistaken. A real college man learns to schedule his work so he may participate in the important activities of college life.

BRYANT-BATTE.

Prof. W. T. Bryant of the chemical department of the A. & M. College and Miss Lillian Batte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Batte of Bryan, were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon, October 7th, at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. M. E. Weaver, pastor of the First Baptist Church officiating. The happy young couple left immediately for Galveston, where they will spend a short time on their wedding trip. Mr. and Mrs. Bryant will make their home in Bryan, and Prof. Bryant will assume his duties at A. M. College as usual.

RECEPTION FRIDAY NIGHT.

The faculty and officers of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, cordially invite the people of the campus, the members of the Senior class and the people of Bryan to attend an informal reception complimentary to President and Mrs. W. B. Bizzell, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ousley and Lieutenant Janes R. Hill, Friday evening, October 9, 1914, from 8:00 to 10:30 p. m.

The reception will be held in the Academic Building, second floor. There will be no personal invitations.

CHARLES PURYEAR,
Chairman Committee.

ATHLETICS AT THE UNIVERSITY.

University Station, Oct. 9.—The responsibility for the physical development of students in the University of Texas rests upon the department of physical training. Every male Freshman entering the University must furnish the department with a "Personal History Blank," properly filled out, which gives complete information concerning the physical make-up of the individual who is the subject of the same. He then undergoes a medical examination which describes his present physical condition accurately and in detail, so that any abnormal or dangerous condition can be made the subject of conference with the athletic directors and the proper exercises prescribed for. The normal students are given the exercises calculated best to produce an all-round healthful symmetrical physical development.

The prime object of the department is not to produce athletes but to develop large numbers of strong, clear-headed, healthy students. This regime consistently followed, makes unnecessary and especial effort to secure athletes. They spring up naturally from among the thousand or more students engaging each year in athletic exercises at the University. As an illustration of what this system has done for the athletic teams of the University of Texas, the record of last season is illuminating. The University football team sustained but one defeat, and that at the hands of a team which defeated West Point and was considered among the five strongest teams of the whole country. The University basketball and soccer teams were undefeated, and champions of the Southwest. The University tennis team came out of a hard season champion of the Southwest and to this distinction added also the scalps of Illinois and Missouri Universities. In track athletics, the University of Texas team was victor over the team holding the Southern championship. University wrestlers defeated the best wrestlers of the University of Nebraska, which institution was champion of the Missouri Valley Conference. The baseball team took twenty-three straight victories from college teams, thus breaking the world's collegiate record for straight victories.

In short, the University teams won distinction in every competitive test they entered.

NOTES FROM THE UNIVERSITY.

A study of the registration cards of students at the State University during the 1913-14 session reveals interesting statistics concerning church preferences and affiliations, as follows:

Methodist	776
Baptist	463
Presbyterian	434
Episcopal	214
Christian	213
Roman Catholic	93
Lutheran	58
Jewish	48
Church of Christ	20
Congregationalist	19
Christian Science	12
German Evangelical	5
Universalist	3
	2358

University, Station, Oct. 9.—War and financial depression have failed to cut down the enrollment at the University of Texas. There are 1929 students registered during the first four days of registration, and more upper-classmen registered than during the corresponding days of any previous year. Professor John Keen, who superintends the matriculation of students from other colleges at both the Main University and at the Medical Department predicts an increased attendance during the year of this class of students of at least 20 per cent.

LYCEUM TICKETS ON SALE.

Tickets for the 1914-15 Lyceum attraction are now on sale by the captains of companies and other men working the campus. Charlie Nitch, the College tailor has offered to give the man selling the most tickets a pair of "Charley Made" trousers, either uniform or citizens.

The Lyceum course for this year is the best that has ever been secured for this place. Higher class and higher priced attractions have been booked in the hopes that the campus people and cadets will take advantage of this opportunity to attend some good entertainments. There are thirty-five people in the course, each of whom is a star in his particular attraction. Twenty-six of these thirty-five people are girls, and good looking girls, too.

The Assembly Hall has been repaired and thus a great deal better place is provided in which to show.

The following is a list of attractions with the date on which they will appear:

- Nov. 12, Apollo Concert Co.
- Nov. 28, Hampton Court Singers.
- Jan. 14, Rounds Ladies Orchestra.
- March 1, Edwin Brush, Magician.
- March 13, Anon Sketch Club.

The price of a single season ticket is $2.25; family $5.00. $1.50 will be saved by buying a season ticket, besides helping the Long Horn.

"BEING HUMAN" IS GOOD BUSINESS.

He was a prominent football player at College, and soon after graduation became interested in the industrial service movement. In considering the human side of his engineering job, he was faced with his responsibility toward his foreign employes. Though he was general superintendent of the works, he was not too "big" a man to teach his foreigners English five nights a week in his own office. He writes:

"The satisfaction and pleasure I get is sufficient to make me feel selfish, and then, too, I know it is an asset for the men, and my employer receives better service. I can say honestly that this friendly basis with my men helps rather than hurts discipline. I cannot see the wisdom of unwillingness to stand shoulder to shoulder with any man, foreigner or otherwise. I am trying to lead my men by example. The work I am doing is but a beginning of what my company hopes to do. Some one must make a little sacrifice, and why turn it over to "George?" One has nothing to fear on the familiarity score, if he will be frank with the men and keep constantly in mind that they are men, and that what is good for you is good for them. I have known men advocating the aloof attitude, who did it because they were, down deep in their hearts, "yellow," and it is the hardest thing in the world to fool the fellows who work under you; much harder, in fact, than to deceive your superiors.

Play fair! Give the Brenham Laundry a chance. If it doesn't do high-class work you do not have to pay for it.—Sam Farrell, Agent.
