A partial list has been made out, containing the names of sixteen Seniors whom the Battalion considers worthy of mention in "Who's Who at A. & M." It is not probable that the names of more than four other Seniors will be added to this list; hence, it will be seen that it is quite an honor to be included in this small number.

Before selecting these men the Battalion secured recommendations from six different persons on the campus, each one in a position to know who was who in his line of college activity. The Seniors who received recommendations from the greatest number of these men were the ones chosen.

The series will start as soon as the first cuts can be secured, and one write-up will be published each week. It is now our intention to mention a few Juniors during the spring, but we will wait until they have all had a chance to show what they can do before we select them.

We observe in the Daily Texan for Tuesday an article by Hon. A. S. Crisp of the State Legislature concerning relations between A. & M. and the University, in which he advances arguments in favor of resuming athletic relations, and incidentally commends The Battalion for fostering a spirit of good feeling between the two schools. Mr. Crisp is the father of our fellow student, M. C. Crisp, and, having a son in this college, realizes more keenly the uselessness of animosity between the two schools.

The Battalion is glad to see T. U. and A. & M. assuring each other of their good will, but after all its strikes us as very regrettable that such a thing is necessary. Why should students who are the best of friends in their home towns become enemies as soon as they have reached their respective colleges?

THE "LONG HORN" CALLS MEETING OF CLUB AND SOCIETY PRESIDENTS

On Saturday evening, October 17, a meeting of the presidents of all the clubs and societies was called for the purpose of determining whether or not the clubs wanted a space in the "Long Horn" for pictures. Everyone proved to be enthusiastic over the proposition and wanted a space reserved for their club in the college annual.

Mr. H. F. Ellis, editor of the book on Student Organizations, then outlined to them the way in which the work in his department would be conducted this year, and gave them a brief description of the way in which they could make their space in the "Long Horn" pretty and attractive. Every club will be given the privilege of designing their own plate and making it as original as possible. In this way each club will try to fix up the most attractive, the most original and the most typical design representative of the purpose of organizing the club and the things which it stands for.

At the conclusion of the meeting there was a short discussion on organizing a club consisting of club presidents. The move seemed to be a popular one and one from which great benefit could be derived. A meeting may be called some time in the future for the purpose of organizing this club.

All those presidents who were absent from the meeting last Saturday should see either Mr. Ellis or Mr. Jarvis some time soon if they wish to get the picture of their club in the annual this year.
