B. U., Nov. 5.—To organize High School Press Clubs and to have them represented here this winter, is a plan of the Baylor Press Club. To benefit High School editors and publications and to widen the influence of Baylor are the two purposes of the meeting.

T. C. U., Nov. 3.—Following the establishment of the honor system in T. C. U. by the vote of the student body and faculty, the Student Council began its formal jurisdiction over all cases of cheating and stealing, which arise on the university campus, this week. The council consists of ten representatives, one from each department of the university. The council will have absolute control over all questions of honor among the students. This is the first time the system has been tried at T. C. U., and a strong effort is being made to get the hearty co-operation of the entire student body in making it a success.

T. C. U., Nov. 3.—The Fresh-Soph Hallowe'en party turned out to be a sad affair on Hallowe'en eve, when the upperclassmen raided the pantry at the house in which it was given, overpowered the guard which had been placed there to protect the refreshments, and made off with several dozen pies, a crate of apples and a churn of hot chocolate. The hungry freshmen and sophs revenged themselves on their dignified upperclassmen by rolling the seniors' bale of cotton from the university to a park about a quarter of a mile away. They laughed best for they laughed last when the seniors brought their bale back the next day.

SMALL NUMBER "FLUNK 'OUT."

It is interesting to note that the number of men sent home this year is smaller than it has ever been in

ATTENTION ALUMNI!

In this issue you will find the first write-up in the series, "Who's Who at A. & M." In this series we will tell who the cadets of prominence now are in your alma mater, and why they are prominent. These articles will be of interest to you, we know, if you still have the old A. & M. spirit. If you have a son or near relative here now you may be surprised at any time to find his name among the "great" and "near-great." For further explanation, see the editorial page.

After Christmas the Battalion is going to publish in installments a history of the college—a thing never attempted at A. & M. before—and you cannot afford to miss it. If you have any interesting bits of information that you would like to have incorporated into this history, we would be glad to have them.

Next June the corps plans to visit the Panama-Pacific Exposition in a body under military discipline, and a liberal estimate now places the cost of this trip at $100 per individual. A. & M. will then advertise Texas to the world.

If you have the slightest interest in the cadets now in the college, if you want to read the history of A. & M., or if you have a son here who plans to go to San Francisco, or if you would like to go with the corps yourself, it is to your interest to subscribe for the Battalion and keep in touch with these things. Beginning with this issue, we will send you the Battalion the remainder of the year for only one dollar. Can you afford to neglect this offer? A. & M. now has the best president in its history, and the student body and faculty are working side by side for the good of the college. Subscribe for the Battalion, get in touch with the college, and lend a hand in the upbuilding of your alma mater.

recent years. So far only eight men have been required to withdraw, while thirteen are allowed to stay conditionally. Dr. Bizzell has made the following statement: "It is the policy of the faculty to advise withdrawal only in case of those students who have shown clearly that college work is too difficult for them to pursue with advantage. Each student who has failed to make the required ten hours has been advised to return to high school or preparatory school and spend the year in preparation for re-entering next fall. Practically every one of the eight students whose withdrawal has been recommended has been asked to do so because of insufficient preparation rather than indifference in work. It is expected that most of these men will return next fall prepared to resume their work."

It is expected that the new entrance requirements that go into effect next year will do away with so many men failing to pass their work as it will prevent men from entering who are not prepared to do the work required of them.

Y. M. C. A. ADDRESS LAST SUNDAY

The Y. M. C. A. was indeed fortunate in having Rev. Peter Gray Sears of Houston as speaker Sunday night.

The speaker, in his characteristic, forceful way, expanded upon his theme of the morning. In his talk he brought out and clearly impressed his audience with the thought that every man should take Jesus Christ as his ideal and live, that when the time comes for him to leave this world he will not have lived in vain, but like the Savior, can truthfully write well done at the end of his record.

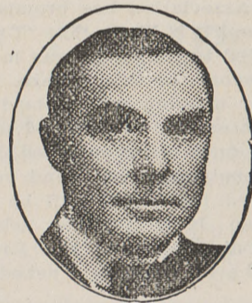

FIRST COPY OF LASS-O RECEIVED.

We are in receipt of the first issue of the Lass-O, the newsy little sheet now being published weekly by C. I. A. It is chock full of interesting news and is well patronized by the Denton advertisers.

RABBI COHEN TO SPEAK SUNDAY.

On Sunday, Nov. 14th, Rabbi Henry Cohen of Galveston will conduct the chapel services. Rabbi Cohen has favored us with at least one sermon a year for the past few seasons. It is significant that on the Sundays when it has been advertised that Rabbi Cohen would conduct the services there were intentional absentees from chapel, and this speaks volumes for Rabbi Cohen.

FIRE PREVENTION.

By S. W. English, State Fire Marshal.

Electricity is a wonderful thing. It is a trinity of mysteries. It has light, it has power, it has heat. When properly confined it is man's servant; it is woman's labor saver.

But familiarity with electricity breeds danger. It provides fuel for the fire demon. It works in a wonderful way. A careful inspection of wiring today may save a cankering regret tomorrow.

There is no light of prosperity, no power to undo, no heat to make the heart glow in the ruins of a home.

Is your house wired properly? Has time corroded the insulation that confines this wonderful fluid in the little copper wires? Don't suppose so—do you know it?

If the wiring in your residence is not properly inspected you may pay out the savings of a lifetime as a result.

Play safe!

TO CONSIDER LIVESTOCK RATES

Austin, Tex., Nov. 10.—The Texas Railroad Commission was to consider today an application of the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association and other livestock interests and a committee representing Texas railroad lines, praying for the approval and adoption by the commission of certain proposed changes in and additions to the tariff applying on livestock in carload lots, transported by railroads between points in Texas. These proposed changes pertain particularly to rates on cattle to Texas market points and the question of minimum weights.

The commission also was to hear today a petition to require the Texas & Pacific Railroad to maintain separate waiting rooms for whites and negroes at Denison.
