FAYETTE COUNTY CLUB.

The members of the Fayette County Club enjoyed a delightful box party at the moving picture show, Saturday, November 21. Immediately after the show the club proceeded to the club room, where a table was laden with all kinds of good "eats," and drinks. However, the drink was nothing stronger than hot chocolate.

The president called the meeting to order in his usual "charming" manner. It was decided by the club that the members have individual pictures taken in "cits" for the club picture to be put in the Long Horn. After all the business was transacted the meeting was turned into a social and the new members were sworn in.

SAN FRANCISCO TRIP NOT ABANDONED.

"Red" Allen Explains Lull and Gives Plans as They Now Stand.

For some time those who are at the head of the movement to take the cadet corps to San Francisco to the Panama-Pacific Exposition in June, 1915, have maintained a "deathly silence." No idea of dropping the trip is entertained, however. The delay has been occasioned by "hard times talk."

Present indications are that the corps will not be over-burdened with funds in June, 1915, and all possibility of raising any great amount of money by means of entertainments, benefit performances, growing of crops and other ideas, which were formulated last year, is now a thing of the past. When the movement was first urged it was the idea of those who were its chief advocates to raise as much money as they could by means suggested above. At that time it was thought that a sum of $4,000 or an amount in that neighborhood could be raised. The idea of asking the Legislature for an appropriation of $10,000 also was considered, and had not the present financial stringency arisen, might have been carried thru to a successful accomplishment. Now all hope of securing funds from the State is practically abandoned. The idea of having the local alumni in various cities of the State conduct benefit performances for this fund has been given up, too, as theatrical performances of the very best nature are not receiving good patronage.

The indication now is that no money will be forthcoming from any source, and that individuals will have to bear all of their expenses. The trip can be made, as a corps, for at least $100 less than the members of the corps could make it traveling as individuals. The government will maintain a military post for the entertainment of the various military college regiments, and A. & M. can receive the benefit of this camp in June, as was originally planned. The government will furnish tents and cots free and will conduct a mess, at which meals may be secured at the rate of 40 or 50 cents per day.

The rate as defined at present will be $50 for the round trip, with any stop-over privileges desired. Tourist sleepers may be secured for the corps, and by using these cars, which are used by the government in transporting troops, the cost of the trip will be greatly reduced.

It would seem that by going as a corps the trip can be made for $100 per man, or threabouts, leaving a margin for amusements and side-trips.

At least 300 of the members of the corps are planning to make the trip whether the regiment goes or not. If a sufficient number of boys will make the trip to insure a good representation, there seems to be no reason why these men should not reorganize the regiment shortly before school closes and make the trip as a corps, saving much money for themselves and insuring a spirit of comradeship thruout the entire trip.

After the Christmas holidays, when the men have paid their maintenance for the second term and have squared themselves with the world, a canvass of the corps will be made to see how many boys will make the trip and then plans for the excursion will be taken up and carried thru to a successful accomplishment.

LYCEUM MONDAY NIGHT.

The second lyceum attraction of the season, presented at the College City Opera House on Monday night, November 30, was well received. The company, the Hampton Court Singers, consisted of three ladies and two gentlemen. The program was musical thruout and was generously applauded. Each member was well versed in his part so that the entire performance was a rare treat to the connoisseurs in the corps and on the campus. The appreciation of the cadet corps was shown by the liberal attendance, and it is expected that many more season tickets will be sold before the next number, which will be given on the coming Saturday night, December 5.
