EMINENT RELIGIOUS WORKERS TO ATTEND

James A. Whitmore of New York, who is to give several addresses at the State convention of the Texas Young Men's Christian Associations, is looked upon as one of the real leaders in the ranks of the employed force of the associations of America. While Mr. Whitmore was at college he took front rank among religious workers among the students. He was also prominent in athletics. About five years ago he was called to be associated with Fred B. Smith as one of the international secretaries. Since that time he has traveled about the country developing and strengthening the religious work of the associations.

Mr. Whitmore has had considerable part in developing the varied types of religious work now carried on under direction of the associations. He works largely among railroad and city men and devotes considerable time to work for older boys. In the associations there are four distinct lines of religious work now carried on. First, conducting religious meetings in association buildings, halls and theatres for men and boys; second, the holding of meetings at the noon hour for men who are employed in shops and factories; third, conducting Bible classes; fourth, the organization of personal work groups.

The last association year more than 7,000,000 boys and men were reported as having attended religious gathering under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Associations, and there were over 135,000 different men and boys enrolled in the Bible classes. In the coming convention L. A. Coulter, the State secretary of the Texas associations, says that special emphasis will be laid upon discussion which will mean a stronger religious work among men and boys of the State.

CHAPEL NOTES.

Dr. H. A. Boaz, president of the Texas Woman's College at Fort Worth, filled the pulpit at the morning service here on last Sunday in a very creditable manner. He brought out very strongly the fact that "sterling integrity" is sought after more diligently at the present time than ever before in the world's history.

Dr. Boaz always spices his sermons with enough wit to demand the undivided attention of the college man. And therefore everyone, also, grasps the lesson of his sermon.
