GOOD OLD SUMMER TIME

IS HERE, AND WITH THE SEASON COMES THE DEMAND FOR

COLD DRINKS

ICES, FRUITS

Fresh Candies and Cigars

All these things we have for you in profusion and a force of men that know how to wait on you.

Hang Around

The Campus Confectionery

ALL-COMPANY BASKETBALL TEAM.

All-Company Basketball Players to be Selected April 10--Much Interest Shown.

This year has been a very successful one in company basketball, a great deal more interest having been shown than was formerly the case. There were plenty of games, and nearly all of them were hard fought and snappy. So many excellent players were developed in these company games that it is a difficult matter to pick an allcompany team and be fair to all. In an effort to do so, however, eighteen men have been picked, and a game and to be played, in which each of these men will participate. As a result of this game, six players will be selected from these eighteen men as an all-company team. Mr. Steger, with two assistants, will act as judges. These six men will be selected on individual merits alone, regardless of whether or not they are on the winning team.

Two managers, G. C. Palmer and "Doc" Sanders, each have charge of nine men, from whom they will de-

Dr. W. H. Lawrence DENTIST

OFFICE IN COMMERCE BUILDING

PHONE 521

Bryan, - Texas

69 MORE DAYS Home, Sweet Home

velop their respective teams. The manager who's team wins will be awarded with a small basketball with his name and "All-Company Basketball Manager, 1914-1915" engraved on it. In like manner, each of the six players will be given a silver basketball with name and position engraved on same.

Palmer's Team. Sanders' Team.

Splawn Lockett

Center.

Burns Griesenbeck

Guard.

Allan (Capt.) Garza

Forward.

Zuehl Camp

Forward.

Johnson Runge

Forward.

Bozeman Hill

Forward.

Kendricks Washam

Guard.

Dickie Dudlty
Guard.
Sanders Green (Capt.)
Guard.

A SECOND-HAND BOOK EXCHANGE

Several thousand books have to be bought here in September and February of every year, and because of the price as compared with new books, Lockett many students buy second-hand books. Some students prefer new books, and, Griesenbeck | as a rule, these students do not care to sell their old text boks, but preserve them. On the other hand, there are students who have old books they Camp would like to sell and who would like to buy secondhand books, but it is often Runge difficult to find a purchaser for the old text books one has, and to secure ex-Hill actly what he himself wants, because of the number of students in attend-Washam ance. This last is especially true of the Freshmen, because they are unacquainted with the upper-classmen in September, and because the Freshmen are unfamiliar with conditions here there is much room in them to be cheated on a sale of old books.

Next September there will be not one from whom the Seniors can buy second-hand books, and those who are Seniors now certainly will not be here next year to dispose of their old text books, if they cared to sell them Juniors will not buy them in June, because a person rarely buys an article that he will not need immediately, unless he gets it at a very low bargain.

Our present exchange store, which by the way, is an exchange store only in the sense that money is a medium of exchange, could easily handle second-hand books, old drawing instruments and other similar articles on a commission basis and remedy all the above mentioned conditions, thereby aiding many students in a financia way and saving them much trouble.

Prof. Wright—"Hot air does no rise, it is pushed up by cold air."

Fish Westerhoff (scratching his head)—"Suppose we have hot air in a

W. J. Coulter & Co.

Trunks, Suit Cases and Hand Bags

Bryan, Texas