WHAT THE 1915 LONGHORN WILL BE.

The Longhorn of this year bids fair to be the best annual ever put out by the cadets of A. and M. College, and it is certain that no annual issued by the students of this college in past years except the Longhorns of '10 and '12 can bear comparison with it. The editor of the Battalion knows, for he has seen something of the making of this Longhorn and has in his possession a copy of every other annual ever published here.

The editor of the college annual has given almost his entire energies for the past twelve months to getting out the volume, and it will in after years be a monument to his name. His motto in selecting material has been "Nothing but the Best," and no half-done work has been tolerated. It will per-tray the work of the College in a more complete way than any previous annual has ever done, and is so planned that a stranger who had never heard of Texas A. and M. (if there be any such benighted creatures) could get a clear and correct idea of what the College is—a thing which cannot be said for the majority of the volumes preceding it.

The chief staff artist in 1914 won first place in the final national competition conducted by the Beaux Arts Society of New York. He is the only Texan who ever won this honor, and he won it over competitors from Harvard, Boston Tech., University of Penn. and other leading institutions of the nation where architectural training is given. Military life will be the central idea of this year's annual, and symbolic military decorations will be found throuthout the volume.

The next piece of concrete sidewalk that is needed is a four-foot walk running to Mitchell and thence to the "Y" Building. Such a walk would be used more than any other spur that could be built, especially during commencement.

For a number of reasons the editor has seen fit to discontinue the publication of the College History in the Battalion, but the history complete to date will appear in bulletin form, well illustrated, in a short time. Those interested may secure copies of it when it appears.

VARSITY TO HONOR A. AND M. BASEBALL TEAM.

We learn from the Daily Texan that those in charge of athletics at the University, resolving not to be outdone by the hospitality shown the University baseball players and track men while at A. and M. are preparing to entertain the A. and M. team with a banquet.

C. E. S. HEAR LECTURE ON STREET PAVING

At a regular meeting of the C. E.
Society last Thursday night, Mr. L.
W. Kemp of the Texas Company gave a very interesting and instructive lecture on street paving in Texas.

During the course of his talk he gave a very minute description of all the different materials for street pavements. He also gave a brief history of the development of street paving in Texas.

The lecture was well attended and beneficial to all those present.

ANNUAL CARNIVAL A GREAT SUCCESS

many prize-winning animals that belong to the department.

The carnival proper was equally as interesting as the parade. Dancing in the gymnasium continued until late in the night under the direction of Mr. E. E. McAdams, floor manager.
Mesdames Morgan, Potts, Bagley and Ridgway, assisted by Miss Ara Lee Jones, who presided at the booth, where the most delicious cakes, candies, etc., were served. The big vaudeville attraction was a winner. At a great expense the management secured Jack Johnson and Jess Willard as the leading number, while Mutt and Jeff brought the house down in screams.

The various exhibits of the engineering societies were very interesting and amusing. One of the most appropriate was "Hell," as exhibited by the Chem. fiends. The E. E.'s made you stare in astonishment as the long sparks would jump from your nose at their bidding. "Lake Moss," as shown by the C. E.'s, was very beautiful and interesting.

Much praise and credit is due the management and those who assisted in making this the greatest carnival in the history of the A. & M. College.
Ike Aushburn, the president, worked unceasingly from the start, and his colleagues, Dr. J. O. Morgan, A. T.
Potts and A. L. Darnell, were with him all the time. F. J. Bechert and "Redwing" Palmer were managers of the vaudeville and James Sullivan, cashier.

When one considers the fact that the parade did not contain half the material and exhibits that were available had there been time to get them ready, he will appreciate what can be done another year. Several of the departments were not represented at all.

SOPHOMORE PICNIC.

Friday afternoon, April 30th, the Sophomore Bible Class entertained the young ladies of Bryan and College with a most delightful moonlight picnic at Hill Crest.

The fun began at five o'clock when the cadets met their partners on the car, and it continued throuthout the evening.

A lively contest was carried out by giving to the couple who could collect the largest variety of wild flowers a lovely box of candy. Mr. Morrow and Miss McCullough, of Bryan, were the lucky ones with 53 different flowers.

After a most delightful supper prepared by the young ladies, the crowd walked to Bryan to see the movies.

The pictures were exceedingly good ones and were enjoyed by all.

From the Dixie the crowd went to the Queen, where a business meeting was held. It was decided to make the ladies honorary members of the class.
The officers were: Miss Willie Mc-Dougald, president, Miss Clara Mawhinney, vice-president; Miss Mary McInnis, treasurer; and Miss Louise Batte, secretary.

There was much regret when the time came to break up and each person present said that a better time could not have been planned.

A NEW GAME.

There has never been a new form of amusement so widely and enthusiastically taken up in as short time as has the game of chess at A. & M.
Until the Y. M. C. A. Building was opened there were possibly not a dozen men in all college who had ever seen a game of chess played. In less than a week's time the game gained a strong foothold and is now almost as popular as baseball.

A few weeks ago Prof. Redlich, who is an expert player, was engaged for a series of lectures on the game.
The attendance at these lectures showed how the interest had spread.
Prof. Redlich devoted the first lecture to the elementary principles of the game. In the other two lectures he went into the intricacies and finer points and showed different plays by which an opponent might be caught napping. After the last lecture it was suggested that a chess club be organized, but the suggestion was not carried out since the session is so nearly ended. It was decided that the club be organized early next fall and several tournaments will probably be held next year if the interest in the game keeps up.

CHAPEL SERVICES.

Last Sunday chapel was again held in the gymnasium. The building held the entire attendance very comfortably and was cool and well ventilated.
This fact, together with the extraordinarily good sermon, served to keep the audience pretty wide awake during the entire service.

The speaker was Dr. Standifer, president of Simmons College. Altho not a preacher, Dr. Standifer is a brilliant speaker and the message he brought was helpful to everyone who heard it. The subject of the sermon was "Personal Ascendancy, or Leadership," and the text was "What do ye more than others?" Dr. Standifer also address the Y. M. C. A. Sunday night.
