

IN MEMORIAM.

Whereas, Our Almighty Father has seen fit to remove from the family circle, by the sad automobile catastrophe, the sister, Mrs. Vinson Davis, and little nephew of our friend and classmate, L. J. Davis; therefore,

Be it resolved, That we, the members of the Freshman class, extend our profound and sincere sympathy to Mr. Davis and relatives in their hour of bereavement.

Be it further resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved husband and a copy of the same be published in The Battalion.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas, God, in His infinite wisdom, has seen fit to take from this world, Ben Fuchs, the brother of our friend and classmate, John W. F. Fuchs, we, the members of the Sophomore class, offer the following resolutions:

Be it resolved, That we take this method of expressing to our friend and his family our heartfelt sympathy in this hour of grief. We realize that the loss of a brother is a great loss indeed, and tho we cannot always understand the actions of the Great Father above, we humbly bow before His infinite wisdom and love.

Furthermore, be it resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, a copy published in the home paper, and a copy published in The Battalion.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas, Our Divine Father, in His unbounded wisdom, has seen fit to call home from this earth Mrs. Priester, the grandmother of our beloved and trusted friends, L. A. and L. E. Priester, we, the members of the Houstin Club, do offer the following resolutions:

1. Resolved, That we do realize what the death of a loving grandmother means to a happy family, and further, that we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family in their unfortunate hour of sorrow.

2. Resolved, That we take this means of expressing our commemoration for the family; and

Be it further resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, a copy published in the Richmond Coaster, and a copy in The Battalion.

"Don't you think it pays to keep chickens?"

"Yes," replied Farmer Cornstossel. "A few chickens are a good advertisement. They keep the summer boarders cheered up, thinkin' mebber the first thing they know they'll see a couple of 'em on the dinner table."—Washington Star.

"Yes," said the young physician of aristocratic lineage, "our family has a motto, but I prefer not to use it.

It is a little too suggestive in my profession!"

"What is the motto?"
"Faithful unto death." — Boston Transcript.
