

Harlan, Coach A. and M. College, College Station, Texas: Congratulations and best wishes for future victories; we knew old A. and M. could do the work. Wish we could have been with you today. Three cheers for old A. and M., with colors of crimson and white.—Cobolini Bros.

San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 19.—W. K. Hanson, College Station, Texas.—Congratulations; long live A. and M., the greatest college in Texas and the finest boys on earth; everybody happy. Write us full particulars of the great victory.—The Whole D. Family, by W. M. Hanson.

Texas City, Tex., Nov. 20.—A. and M. Football Squad, Capt. Garrity, College Station, Texas: Congratulations for your decisive victory over the Longhorns.—Tucker.

Austin, Texas, Nov. 20.—Hon Ike Ashburn, College Station, Texas.—My Dear Ike: I would indeed be ungrateful if I did not write and thank you for the splendid visit I had yesterday to A. and M. College.

The seats were excellent and again I must thank you and Mr. Driver.

This could not be fairly concluded without congratulating the College authorities on the way the crowd and game was handled. The meals in the mess hall were excellent and at ridiculously low prices. The immense throng was fed quickly and without confusion. All of us marveled and praised. The system could not have been improved upon. The food was good, well prepared and of variety. Truth is, I gourmandized at supper.

My only disappointment was the result of the game. But it was a fair contest, well played and the best team won. There can be no alibis. Too, the officiating was the best I have seen in Texas.

Again thanking you, and with kindest regards, I am cordially yours, W. M. Thornton, Correspondent, Galveston News.

Austin, Texas, Nov. 20.—Mr. W. B. Bizzell, College Station, Texas. Dear President Bizzell—Kindly allow me on behalf of the Athletic Council of the University of Texas to express our appreciation of the manner in which the recent football game was conducted, and of the fine hospitality shown by your student body. Being beaten by such "good sports" destroys in a large measure the sting of defeat. Very sincerely yours, W. T. Mather, Chairman of the Athletic Council, University of Texas.

The University of Texas, Office of the President, Austin, Texas, Nov. 20.—President W. B. Bizzell, Agricultural and Mechanical College, College Station Texas. Dear President Bizzell: On behalf of the University, let me extend to you and the faculty and students of the Agricultural and Mechanical College our warm thanks and appreciation of the courtesies shown by all at College Station. I cannot but feel that the occasion will do much to promote good feeling between our two institutions.

I was sorry not to be able to see you after the game and offer my congratulations on the fine playing of your team. It was a clean game, fairly fought and won. Sincerely yours, W. J. Battle, Acting President, University of Texas.

Waco, Texas, Nov. 20.—Dr. W. B. Bizzell, President A. and M. College, College Station, Texas—Dear Sir:

As a very loyal alumnus of A. and M. College, I wish to congratulate the faculty, student body and football team upon the glorious victory of yesterday, and upon the excellent manner in which the entire affair was managed. The winning of this game means a great deal more to the College than simply a football victory. It will no doubt result in placing College athletics in this State on the highest plane. The eyes of Texas were upon our College yesterday and you have demonstrated to every one

AT THE QUEEN.

Thanksgiving Day—The master of photodrama, Francis X. Bushman, and the piquantly pretty actress Marguerite Snow, in a picturization of Otis Skinner's great stage success. "The Silent Voice," visualizes the romance of a gifted young musician who finds his hopes of happiness thrice shattered in the death of his mother, the loss of his hearing and the seeming perfidy of his adored wife. How the discords of his spirit are attuned and the joy of living returns to him makes a story of supreme heart appeal and vital human interest. A screen classic in six superb acts. It's truly the masterpiece of the season.

Mme. Petrova, whose marvelous emotional powers have won her an enviable reputation on the speaking stage in London, Petrograd and New York, and who is remembered for her capital work in "Panthea," at the Shubert Theatre and on tour, will be seen on the screen at the Queen Theatre, Bryan on Saturday, November 27, in "My Madonna," the latest release of Popular Plays and Players in the program of the Metro Pictures Corporation.

"My Madonna" is a gripping and masterly adaptation of Robert W. Service's poem of the same name, and affords Mme. Petrova an excellent opportunity to display her marvelous emotional powers. Guy Coombs, the popular leading man, makes his debut in Metro Pictures, playing opposite to Mme. Petrova. A superb cast of distinguished players will be seen in support of Mme. Petrova, including Evely Dumo, Abert Howson, James O'Neill and other screen favorites.

This will be one of the seasons greatest treats and everyone should grasp the opportunity of seeing this world famous actress.

SPEAKER FOR SUNDAY.

The minister for next Sunday will be Dr. H. W. Knickerbocker of the First Methodist Church at Austin. We always look forward to Dr. Knickerbocker's visits for he is one of the speakers that comes to us each year who would have a full house even though chapel attendance regulations were suspended—it is a treat to hear him.

"Pinkey" Foster is still working hard for a position on the I—K football team and if such men as Ford and Anderson do not look out he will be playing in their place.
