

was only awakened by the ball being bared into his back. With Mathews circuit driving the scoring closed although A. and M. threatened in the eighth when Davis and Smith singled.

The Farmers showed lots of latent strength and both fielding and hitting ability was a revelation to some of the spectators. The infield showed up exceptionally well and from third around to first it stacks up with any seen here in quite a while. It is to be greatly regretted that Glezen is ineligible thru a technicality and unless he is declared eligible by the Conference will not be able to play this year.

Aggies Drop Second Game to Horned Frogs.

In a featureless game the Horned Frogs walked over the Aggies and copped the second game of the local series. Haire for T. C. U. was effective while Coker, altho twirling a good game, was nervous himself and received poor support. The Farmer's play their next games with Texas U. at Austin.

It seems as if a company is jumping at conclusions too rapidly in regard to who's who and why in this jazz orchestra. 'Tis true that Fish Lee is a wonder, and we couldn't very well get along without him, but that doesn't give A company legal right to claim all the honors. I'm speaking in behalf of old company B.

Most everyone returned from their little between term holidays with their cross-guns and other ornaments missing. That's funny. I wonder why.

In the recent upheaval of things Company "C" lost four Juniors and Seniors, one going to the Staff and the remainder going to other companies as commissioned officers in the cadet corps.
