SOPHOMORES KIDNAP JUNIORS
BY THE WHOLESALE.

Thursday night will forever be a memorable one in the history of the college considering the fact that three of our men were wafted away into the unknown and scarcely before they were missed. The history of such "kidnappings" will probably not be written in historic script but nevertheless there was something in the abductions that makes us take notice. We cannot offer any solutions to the problem, however, it seems that the Sophomores were gloriously admitted to the sack holding association.

First, Pinkney Price was forced to depart to greener fields and we might state that his retreat was a quiet one as nothing was known of his abduction 'til Friday morning. Secondly, T. Burns was lured to the telephone office and another Junior disappeared from the horizon. Thirdly, on Friday morning, what might be termed as a small mob enthroned Toadie Todd's room and after a much one sided rush carried away number three, namely Scott Alexander. But let it be said here that old man Scott departed fighting and fought until it came time for a certain track meet in Dalls. (And it took handcuffs to hold him).

The history of where these young men were taken is too long to publish in a special edition of the Battalion so kind readers please excuse it's absence. However, a word to the wise, we admire the Sophomores pep and enthusiasm in trying to get the toastmaster—AND—more, dear reader—We'll hand it to the Juniors they're some "KUM" bunch.

COL. DOUGHERTY TO ATTEND
ARTILLERY SCHOOL IN FRANCE.

On Friday, May 9, the cadet corps shared an equal surprise with Battery "A". On that morning, Lt. Col. L. R. Dougherty received a telegram from the Artillery Chief of Staff, stating that he as to be ordered to prevailed that he would soon receive orders to leave; but we are glad to know that this is not probable. The Colonel does not know the details as to what his orders will be, or where he will be sent, but only what the telegram stated. He will go to France for a five weeks' Artillery School Training, at the end of which he will return to his present position. Although only supposition, he believes that he will not be ordered to leave until after the college year closes.

Lt. Col. Dougherty came to A. and M. on February 17, 1919, and during his three month's stay he has won a warm place in the hearts of the students, especially among the artillerymen. He has done everything in his power to made the battery "A-1" and we are glad to say that his efforts have not been in vain. We were glad to know that he was not apt to be taken from us before June; that he will be back next September; and all are interested in anything which will be of benefit to him in his artillery work, as we feel that this trip will. The Colonel is an officer who brings a feeling of "partnership interest" over his men, and it is this feeling which will always cause them to have an interest in him.
