

A GOD SPEED TO JUNIORS GO-ING TO CAMP TAYLOR.

(Contributed from the farewell address of Mr. Anonymous P. Skip, given to the departing Juniors, Kentucky Bound.)

Gentlemen:—

It gives me great pain to be called upon to deliver an address of this kind. In fact it is disheartening to see such fine men go from this state into so far a land. Young men I feel it my duty to foresee for you what might befall you in so far a land where you know not the customs of so strange a people. You are all aware of the facts that Kentucky is a wonderful state to be "from"—In truth I'm from there.

But kind sirs, do not hold such against me, for it is not altogether my fault. I was raised in Kentucky several miles out of Louisville. At the age of nineteen I left home to procure for myself a job. Well, gentlemen, my case is like many other young men: I went astray. My first job was in a brewery; my second in a distillery; my third as a jockey on the race track; my fourth as a gambling man. Now, my dear sirs, I have said it is my honest duty to warn you of the many pitfalls of the state of old Kentucky—so I have sighted to you the few of the many things to steer clear from in the land where birds make music all the day.

In conclusion, I will wish you gentlemen a wonderful six weeks of the pleasure of being in my home state—I regret that I cannot be with you but I have had enough. May I see you again if YOU survive.

I THANK YOU—(Applause).

SILVER THREADS AMONG THE BLACK

Silver threads among the black
Now that peace in Europe nears,
I'll be home in seven years,
I'll drop in on you some night
With whiskers long and white.
Yes, the war is over Dear
And we are coming home I hear.
Home again with you once more
Say by Nineteen twenty four.
Once I thought by now I'd be
Sailing back across the sea;
Back to where you sit and pine,
But I'm stuck here on the Rhine;
You can hear the boys all curse
War is hell but peace is forse.
When the next war comes around,
In the front ranks I'll be found;
I'll rush in again pell mell,
Yes, I will like hell, like hell.
