

SUMMER SESSION.

Monday, June 9, is Registration Day for the Summer Session of the college. The School of Cotton Classing the Summer Normal, the Rural Life School, and the regular College Summer School will open on this date. All preparations have been made for a large attendance and a very successful session is contemplated.

A recently proposed division of the summer work will include a number of special courses offered at the request of the United States Commission of Agriculture for returned soldiers. These courses will consist of essential theoretical and practical work in various phases of agriculture. They will open June 25th.

The Farmers' Short Course, which has proven very popular in former years, is planned to meet the needs of men and women who desire to farm on a better basis, to make farming more profitable, and to make life on the farm more comfortable and attractive. This course lasts for one week beginning July 21st. The instructors of this course will be provided by the college proper, the Experiment Stations, and the Extension Service.

A large school in cotton classing is expected, for while this division of the summer session is always well attended, the recent law concerning licenses for cotton buyers makes the course of general interest to all people who have business concerns with cotton. The essential object of the course is to prepare young men for positions as cotton buyers, warehouse managers, and similar openings; nevertheless, former schools have been popular with experienced men as well as co-eds.

The College division makes it possible for students to work for additional credits towards graduation or to make up deficiencies that they may have. It also offers an opportunity for young men who intend to enter the fall term to acquire needed review or credit.

The Normal School offers instructions in the various subjects required for State teachers' certificates. The Rural Life School presents a very broad curriculum of subjects relative to all phases of rural life. Many rural merchants, ministers, teachers and other people interested in the welfare of rural communities attend these schools. The League of Rural Welfare will meet during this school for conference and a discussion of rural social problems.

The college authorities wish to emphasize the fact that the summer session is co-educational, and women are urged to take the advantage of the work given, particularly that of the Rural Life and Summer Normal Divisions. The new stucco building on the north side of the campus is to be given over as dormitory for the women.

COACH GRAVES LEAVES FOR ST. LOUIS, MO.

Coach E. F. ("Tubby") Graves made his departure Tuesday for St. Louis to visit his mother who is in a hospital at that city. Mrs. Graves has been ill for almost two months and this is the second time our coach has been called to her bedside. When his mother's condition permits, Mr. Graves will join his wife for a vacation trip to Iowa where they will spend the remainder of the summer. "Tubby" will return before the opening of college in order to assist Coach Bible in the first try-outs for the 1919 football team.
